Editors Told To Yell Foul On Secrecy

Rep. Moss Asserts Newsmen Indicted 'Without Evidence'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rep. Moss (D-Calif.) told newspaper editors today it is time to shout "foul" because "you have been indicted without evidence" by secrecy-minded government officials.

Moss, chairman of the House Government Information Subcommittee, referred to a Pentagon study group and to the security commission headed by Loyd Wright in a speech prepared for the American Society of Newspaper Editors' convention.

Moss said the two government groups favored strong legislation applicable to newsmen printing "leaked" information harmful to national security. But he said his subcommittee found no proof of allegations that such practices occurred.

Tells Of Incident

To illustrate how far he said the "climate of censorship" has spread, Moss told an incident he had just come across in Washington.

He said the editor of a military publication asked the Defense Department's Office of Security Review for "clearance" of a review of a book by Confederate Lt. Gen. Richard Taylor published 78 years ago.

He said that editor, whom he did not name, informed the subcommittee he wanted Pentagon clearance because "the book is critical of the Reconstruction period which in return is critical of our government," and "I deemed it advisable to protect both the reviewer and myself by having it sent through security review."

Moss did not say how the Pentagon reacted to the request.

Too Free Use Of Stamp
Moss said the Pentagon study group headed by former Asst. Secretary of Defense Coolidge and the Wright commission both found too free a use of the secrecy stamp in government.

Although both groups proposed stiff legislation applicable to newsmen printing secrets, Moss added, neither group sought much information from persons other than the same "security experts" who he said overused the secrecy stamps.

"It is time that you people who edit the nation's newspapers shout 'foul,'" he said.

"You have been indicted without evidence. Unless you protest vigorously you are in danger of being convicted on the same flimsy grounds."

New Uprising In Russ Bloc Nation Hinted

WASHINGTON (INS) — A House Armed Services Committee member said today "confidential informants" have told him an Iron Curtain country is ready to rebel against Communist rule, possibly within a week.

Rep. James T. Patterson (R-Conn.) added in a statement that western officials are trying to prevent the outbreak "because of the fear that the United Nations will act indifferently as it did last fall during the Hungarian revolution."

Patterson refused to name the country where the rebellion is expected. But he singled out Hungary, Poland and East Germany for particular attention.

He said he had been told by informants who have been behind the Iron Curtain in recent weeks that "numerous acts of violence have occurred since last November," particularly in these three countries.

The veteran lawmaker, pressed for further details, said only that he has been told the revolt probably would be bloodier than the Hungarian uprising that was crushed by the Soviet army last November.

Patterson, a World War II Marine Corps intelligence officer, said he was told of two possible dates that the revolt might break out, one of them within a week.

'Enemy' Bombers To Rain Destruction In U. S. Alert

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Enemy" bombers will dump imaginary nuclear destruction on scores of American cities tomorrow in a grim game of "let's pretend."

The mock catastrophe will signal the opening of Operation Alert 1957, the fourth nationwide civil defense training exercise.

Sometime during the seven-day period, a fleet of 14 helicopters will whisk President Eisenhower and his staff to an emergency White House, location undisclosed. Eisenhower is expected to spend only one day or less inspecting his hideaway and its operation, then return to Washington.

The cities to be blasted with the mock hydrogen and atomic bombs will not be informed

Moslems' Spiritual Leader, Aga Khan, 79, Dies In Geneva

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — The Aga Khan III, a wealthy potentate to whom 20 million Ismaili Moslems paid spiritual homage, died today. He was 79.

A glamorous figure on the international scene for many years, the Aga Khan succumbed to a sudden weakening of the heart during the night. He had been suffering from heart disease since 1952.

He was known as a sportsman with an ardent interest in racing horses, a devotee of luxurious living, and a man with an eye for a beautiful woman. But he was also interested in affairs of state and once served as president of the League of Nations.

Most Beautiful Hours
But of his devotion to his Moslem faith: "Each Friday, like every good Moslem, I spend an hour in meditation and prayer. That is my most beautiful hour."

Prince Aly Khan, 46, has generally been regarded as the heir apparent, but some doubt recently was expressed as to whether he or Prince Sadruddin, 24, the Aga's Harvard-educated younger son, would be named. The Aga was said to have been disturbed about Aly's playboy activities. Aly is the former husband of Hollywood actress Rita Hayworth.

Present at the bedside when death came was the Aga Khan's wife, his fourth—and both sons. Sadruddin is planning to marry Nina Dyer, a London model. The wedding had been set for Monday.

Weight Down To 132
The Aga Khan was flown to Geneva from Paris on June 18 to escape a heat spell which contributed to his deteriorating condition. His weight had dropped to 132 pounds—half of that in the days when he was weighed by his subjects against gold, platinum or diamonds on his various anniversaries. The money value went to the Aga Khan's many charities.

His Moslem followers are scattered everywhere in the world but live chiefly in Asia and Africa. (Continued on Page 2; Col. 5)

Four Young Girls Killed In Mishap

TORRANCE, Calif. (AP) — Four young girls were killed and four injured in a two-car collision last night in Torrance, police report.

The parents of two of the girls—who witnessed the crash from a third car—were hospitalized with shock.

Killed were Vickie Rackham, 8, her sister, Pamela, 10; Jeanette Smith, 9; and Corrine Smith, 17.

their fate until just before the exercise. Rescue, relief and evacuation efforts will occupy the first three days.

On Monday, some 7,500 government workers will fan out to 30 secret relocation centers in half a dozen eastern states. From these the work of reconstruction and retaliation will be conducted for four days.

The first period of operations will primarily involve local and state civil defense groups and the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

Judge Rules Hoffa Trial To Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. District Judge Burnis S. Matthews today ordered the bribery trial of union boss James R. Hoffa to proceed but granted a mistrial to Hoffa's codefendant, Miami attorney Daniel P. Maher.

The mistrial for Fischbach was granted because of a heart ailment suffered by Fischbach's counsel, Daniel P. Maher.

The government asked for the mistrial order. Both Hoffa and Fischbach objected.

Fourth Week Of Trial
This is the fourth week of the Hoffa-Fischbach trial on charges they bribed a Senate Rackets Committee investigator, John C. Cheasty, to feed Hoffa data from committee files.

Maher's illness brought the case to an abrupt halt yesterday. Judge Matthews held four separate sessions of court yesterday without deciding how to proceed in view of Maher's illness. She agreed with Fischbach that no new lawyer could fairly replace Maher at this stage of the trial.

Fischbach is charged with lining up a Senate Rackets Committee investigator, John C. Cheasty, to feed Hoffa's spy on the committee. Cheasty, the government's key witness, had testified for 10 days before Maher's illness, and was under cross examination by Maher when the trial was suspended.

Graham Crusade Sets Attendance Mark At Garden

NEW YORK (INS) — Billy Graham's crusade to "Bring God to New York" went into its last ten days today with an attendance record at the Madison Square Garden of 348,000 and a total of nearly 30,000 "decisions for Christ."

Graham's drive reached those figures at last night's services in which the evangelist's text was from Matthew 16:14—"For what is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul?"

"We have a difficult time realizing the value God put on our souls," Graham said. "We, as people, either ignore or forget the fact that the Bible tells us: '... One soul saved is worth the entire world.'"

"That's the reason why a man can maybe make a million dollars and still be miserable. . . . He has lost his soul in the process. And you cannot just regret that loss, just say 'I'm terribly sorry, give me back my soul.'"

"You have to earn it back. Is it difficult? Well, yes and no. You must swallow pride, loose your bonds to worldly things and come to Christ in repentance, not just a hollow mockery—just lip-service."

Civil Rights Bill Power Limit Eyed

Sponsors Back Move To Slice Enforcement Provision Of Statute

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sponsors moved today toward narrowing the enforcement provisions of the Eisenhower administration's civil rights bill to the single field of protecting Negro and minority voting rights.

Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.) disclosed he is drafting such an amendment. Senators Clifford Case (R-N.J.) and Kuchel (R-Calif.) said in separate interviews they support the principle of converting the House-passed bill into strictly a voting-rights measure.

Leaders called the Senate into session early to resume debate on a motion of Sen. Knowland of California, GOP floor leader, to bring the House measure before the Senate for action.

Russell Opposes

In opposing this motion, Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) and other Southerners have contended the House bill would permit the attorney general—backed by troops, if necessary—to move into the South to enforce school integration and racial desegregation in public places.

Russell told reporters that as a result of the Southerners' attack on the terms of what he calls a "vicious" measure, opposition to the bill as it now stands is mounting.

"I have been greatly encouraged by the developments of the last few days," he said. "I have come to the conclusion that the Senate will not pass the bill in its present form."

Confers With Ike
One of these developments was Russell's conference yesterday with President Eisenhower. The Georgia senator evidently brought away new hope that the administration itself will move toward a compromise.

Sen. Mansfield of Montana, assistant Democratic leader, agreed with Russell's view that the Senate will not accept the House bill without changes.

"A civil rights bill will be passed, but not in the form in which it is pending now," he predicted.

The apparent trend toward compromise brought from Rep. Celler (D-N.Y.) a statement that "there seems to be no fight in the administration."

'Clean Bomb' Claim 'Stupid'

PRAGUE (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev today labeled President Eisenhower's talk about a clean hydrogen bomb "a stupid thing."

At the same time, speaking to workers at the Stalingrad metallurgical plant here, he gave broad approval for the development of communism according to "national peculiarities" and indicated he would hold an early meeting with President Tito in an effort to heal the Kremlin's rift with Yugoslavia.

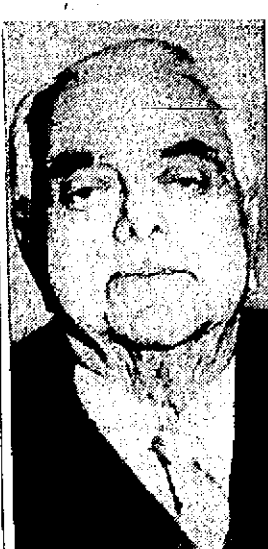

"President Eisenhower is a talented man of great principles," said Khrushchev. "But look at what a stupid thing he says when he says there is a clean hydrogen bomb. How can you have a clean bomb to do dirty things? It means the destruction of children and women. What a contradiction. They call dirty things clean."

Man To Repay Miracle Kids Get Watermelons At Feast Of St. Rocco

DENVER (AP) — The miracle at Potenza—that's what Louis Santangelo likes to call his experience one summer night in Italy in 1904.

He's never forgotten this story: It was at the Feast of St. Rocco, patron saint of Potenza in southern Italy. Santangelo, then 7, and his family watched hungrily as happy hundreds crowded into a tiny churchyard for songs and meals of watermelon.

Louis' father was in New York City, struggling to set up a bakery shop. The youngster's mouth watered at the sight of the watermelon.

Purged Reds Do Not Face Persecution

Malenkov 'Banished' To Power Plant Job; Others Are Assigned

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio says none of the deposed Kremlin leaders is being persecuted.

It made that declaration in announcing that Georgi Malenkov is being hustled off to run a power plant 1,800 miles from Moscow and the other ousted leaders are getting other unspecified jobs.

The broadcast last night also asserted that the appointment of the former Premier as manager of the hydroelectric station at Ust-Kamenogorsk is proof that the Soviet system is democratic.

In Remote Spot

But observers pointed out that Malenkov—target of the most serious accusations of the top four purged leaders—would be unable to offer much opposition to Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev in Ust-Kamenogorsk even if he should try. It's about as remote a spot as there is in the Soviet Union.

The broadcast did not give the nature of the new assignments for V. M. Molotov, Lazar Kaganovich and Dmitri Shepilov, who were ousted from their Kremlin posts along with Malenkov for "anti-party activities." It said only that they had been given other work.

Hit Newspaper Myths

Malenkov's new job, the broadcast said, "makes it clear that the myths being spread by some of the western journalists about the persecution of the members of the anti-party group are merely intended to defame the democratic Soviet system and the Central Committee of the Communist party."

Khrushchev and Soviet Premier Bulganin, meanwhile, continued their talks with Communist leaders in Czechoslovakia. Although there have been reports that Bulganin at one point sided with Malenkov and the others against Khrushchev in the struggle for power within the Kremlin, Premier gave Khrushchev full credit yesterday "for discovering and destroying the anti-party" faction.

Prison Inmates Might Get Wage Hike In Michigan

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan prison inmates may get a pay hike soon—their first "since Herbert Hoover's time."

Corrections Director Gus Harrison told the State Corrections Commission yesterday that prison pay ranges from 5 cents a day for unskilled workers to 70 cents a day for skilled labor.

The inmates use the money they earn to buy cigarettes and other personal items. Harrison said 10 prisoners staged a sitdown strike recently to protest a 2-cent increase in the state tax on cigarettes.

The commission ordered prison wages reviewed after Harrison told them they "haven't been altered since almost Herbert Hoover's time."

Judge Gives FBI Report To Defense

Does Not Mean All Files In Clinton Race Trial To Be Opened

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Federal Judge Robert L. Taylor handed to defense counsel the copy of the oral statement made by R. G. Crosson, Clinton school board official, to the FBI.

Taylor said, however, that this ruling did not mean that the defense would get all the FBI documents in the Clinton segregation cases.

The defense demanded the oral statement summary, having obtained yesterday Crosson's signed statement which was in FBI files. At that time, the oral summary given to FBI was kept by Taylor.

Chief defense spokesman Robert L. Debus, Memphis, demurred at the outset of the session the oral summary.

U. S. Dist. Atty. John C. Crawford Jr. fought to prevent the document from reaching the defense.

"No such statement could be used to impeach this witness," he said. "He hasn't seen the report compiled by the FBI. He has had no opportunity to approve it."

Entered After Riots
The FBI entered the Clinton case last December after riots had broken out over enrolling Negroes in the high school there. A Baptist minister, the Rev. Paul Turner, was beaten for escorting six Negroes to the schoolhouse.

On trial today are 15 Tennesseans, including a pregnant housewife. The 16th defendant is dark-haired John Kasper, New Jersey segregation leader. They are accused of fomenting a federal injunction not to interfere with integrating the high school.

It is the first state-supported high school in Tennessee to mix the races.

French Deny U. S. Request For GI Trial

PARIS (AP) — An Army spokesman said today France has formally refused a request by the U. S. Army for custody of American soldier DeWayne McOsker, charged with the murder of an Algerian.

The 21-year-old M a n a s s e l, N.Y., soldier was to appear in court today for a preliminary hearing.

The Army has said "the French clearly have the right" to try McOsker, although it had asked France to waive the right and permit him to be tried by Army court-martial instead.

McOsker is held in prison on charges of shooting the Algerian in a Paris street quarrel over the price of black market cigarettes. The U. S. request to France to relinquish its right to try McOsker was regarded as merely a formality, since he was off duty when the shooting occurred.

Wife Slayer Sent To Jail For Life

NUERNBERG, Germany (AP) — West German grocer was sentenced to life imprisonment today for electrocuting his wife of 28 years as he washed her back in the bathtub.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's foreign aid bill goes today before the House Rules Committee, which has yet to act on a move to end foreign trials of GIs.

In advance of the hearing, Chairman Gordon (D-Ill.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee took issue with the reported Democratic leadership decision to stall a disputed bill by Rep. Bow (R-Ohio). The bill seeks to do away with trials of U. S. servicemen in times and with such entangling effects on each other.

Eisenhower says his foreign aid bill is a vital link in America's security system. The Bow resolution, the administration says, could break up that security system by forcing withdrawal of U. S. troops from other countries.

Stassen Aets To Detail U. S. Disarm Plans

Zorin Appeal Seen Hopeful Sign After Earlier Criticisms

LONDON (AP) — Harold E. Stassen prepared to tell the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee today more about the U. S. proposal for beginning a partial disarmament treaty with a 10-month suspension of nuclear weapons tests.

U. S. informants said the chief American delegate promised the new statement at yesterday's subcommittee session but gave no hint whether the United States would be willing to extend the suspension period.

The Soviet Union has insisted on a halt of at least two years in weapons tests, but the U. S. sources said the Russians invited new discussions on the American proposal.

Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin was said to have asked Stassen to elaborate on the plan, adding: "Perhaps you can convince us."

Some Western officials saw Zorin's request as a hopeful sign that implied willingness to negotiate. Last Monday Zorin had devoted most of a long speech to criticism and rejection of the Western position.

Zorin has made renunciation of the use of nuclear weapons a key point of the Soviet approach to the disarmament issue and Stassen challenged the Russians to draft an acceptable formula for taking such a step.

The West has insisted that any agreement to renounce the use of nuclear weapons must be accompanied by measures for inspection and control and a halt in the production of fissionable materials for weapons.

Aid Bill Slated For Action Before GI Trial Ban Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's foreign aid bill goes today before the House Rules Committee, which has yet to act on a move to end foreign trials of GIs.

In advance of the hearing, Chairman Gordon (D-Ill.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee took issue with the reported Democratic leadership decision to stall a disputed bill by Rep. Bow (R-Ohio). Eisenhower says his foreign aid bill is a vital link in America's security system. The Bow resolution, the administration says, could break up that security system by forcing withdrawal of U. S. troops from other countries.

That could set up the foreign aid bill as the center of a House fight over whether to end foreign trials of GIs.

Rarely have two major foreign affairs bills converted on the House floor. The committee at the same time and with such entangling effects on each other.

Eisenhower says his foreign aid bill is a vital link in America's security system. The Bow resolution, the administration says, could break up that security system by forcing withdrawal of U. S. troops from other countries.

Cites Belief Japan Trial To Be 'Fair'

Administration Wins Victory; Opinion Read By Warren Unsigned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today authorized U. S. authorities to turn over GI William S. Girard to Japan for trial.

Chief Justice Warren read the high tribunal's unsigned per curiam (for the court) opinion.

At the end of the opinion, the court said: "There is every reason to believe that trial of U. S. Army Specialist 3.C. William S. Girard in the Japanese courts will be conducted with the utmost fairness."

Administration Victory
The decision was a major victory for the administration, which contended that refusal to turn Girard over to the Japanese would be a grave threat to America's security. The argument was that if the agreements under which Americans overseas may be tried by foreign courts for off-duty acts were cancelled, U. S. forces would have to come home.

The decision was a setback for forces in Congress which contend the U. S. Constitution goes with GIs overseas and they must have its full protection.

The Supreme Court said: "United States troops are stationed in many countries as part of our own national defense and to help strengthen the free world struggle against Communist imperialism."

Mutual Agreements
"The matter of jurisdiction in cases of offenses against the laws of host countries, whether by our servicemen aboard or by servicemen of other countries in the United States, is dealt with by mutual agreements."

"In the operation of this system in Japan there has been the greatest measure of mutual trust and cooperation."

"Since the present arrangement became effective in October, 1953, Japan, in the overwhelming majority of the cases in which it had primary right to try American personnel, has waived that right in favor of U. S. action."

The opinion expressed confidence that U. S. authorities "will see that all evidence is available" to Girard and his counsel for the Japanese trial, "and will render evidence." (Continued on Page 2; Col. 4)

British-Born Mother: U. S. Deports Child Slayer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army today ordered the release and deportation of a British mother serving a life sentence for the murder of three of her children while stationed abroad with her American soldier husband.

She is Mrs. Eunice M. Brillhart of Rochdale, England. Her husband, Sgt. Robert W. Brillhart, now is serving with the Army at Sandia Base in New Mexico.

The Army announced that the remaining portion of her life sentence, which she is serving at the Federal Reformatory for Women at Alderson, W. Va., will be remitted so that she can be released on July 22 and turned over to the Immigration Service for deportation to Great Britain.

An Army court-martial found Mrs. Brillhart guilty of the murder of her three children "by dropping them on their heads" over a 13-month period between November 1952 through December 1953. At that time the Brillharts were living in Asmara, Eritrea, now a part of Ethiopia.

Man Accused Of Attempt On Life Of Priest

Used Auto, Knife But Priest, Ex-Wrestler, Put Him In Hospital

RIDGEWAY, Ont. (AP)—A man whose jaw was allegedly broken in a fight July 4 with a 250-pound social-worker priest from Buffalo, N.Y., has been charged with attempted murder.

The charge against Robert A. Rosenberg, 37, was made on complaint of the Very Rev. Msgr. Franklin M. Kelliher, 53, director of the Working Boys' Home in Buffalo, N.Y. Msgr. Kelliher, a 250-pound former wrestler, is widely known in Buffalo for his work in fighting juvenile delinquency.

He told police Rosenberg tried to run him down in an automobile, then left the car to attack him with a butcher knife.

Broke Attacker's Jaw
In a short fight which followed, he told police, Rosenberg's jaw was broken and he suffered other injuries which sent him to a hospital.

He was released yesterday and surrendered to police here.

No Reason For Attack
The priest, who owns a summer home about a block away from Rosenberg's in this resort area, told newsmen: "I don't know the man at all and I can give no reason for the attack."

He said Rosenberg telephoned him four times July 4 using "vile and obscene language."

Msgr. Kelliher said he then arranged to meet Rosenberg that night to talk to him in person.

Israel Claims Syrian Guns Rake Settlement

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—An Israeli army spokesman said Syrian positions fired rifles and machine guns today on Israel's Golan Heights settlement, but that no one was hurt.

Golan, on the west bank of the Jordan River in eastern upper Galilee, was the center of a 10-hour border skirmish Tuesday.

The army spokesman said the shooting today lasted only 15 minutes.

Israeli sources reported "fervid military activity and troop movements" yesterday on the Syrian side of the armistice line. Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion and Gen. Moshe Dayan, army chief of staff, visited settlements near the Syrian border.

The Tel Aviv newspaper Maariv blamed Moscow propaganda broadcasts in Arabic and Soviet bloc arms shipments to Syria for causing the border flareup Tuesday. The Israelis said one Israeli civilian was killed and seven policemen wounded in the shooting Tuesday. The Syrians said two were wounded.

William Baxter, American charge d'affaires, expressed hope for the Israel Foreign Ministry that Israel "would do everything to keep her border quiet." Israeli sources said the ministry told Baxter, as well as British and French diplomats, that Israel shares a hope for border peace but feels the Syrian attacks were wholly unprovoked.

Two Charged As Spies Ask French Help

U. S. Makes Effort For Extraditing Of Soviet-Born Couple

WASHINGTON (AP)—Asst. U. S. Atty. Gen. William F. Tompkins said last night he will fly to Paris next week to discuss the case of George and Jane Zlatovskis, who seek asylum in France from a U.S. accusation of spying for the Kremlin.

Tompkins said he hopes to have personal discussions with "appropriate French authorities" that may open the way to extradition of the couple.

Zlatovskis, Russian-born former lieutenant in U. S. Army Intelligence, claimed he and his wife had been given asylum. In Paris today official sources said there is no chance France will grant asylum to the Zlatovskis.

French Aim Not Clear
But it was not clear whether the French government would take measures to deport the couple, or how it might do so.

U.S. officials have said the French government is under no obligation to extradite the couple under existing treaties. These do not provide extradition for political offenses, officials said.

But Tompkins is expected to explore the possibility that France can find a way to turn the couple over to this country on the grounds there is nothing in the treaties to prevent such action.

Sees Asylum Denied
A French official was quoted in Paris as saying that the right of citizen of the United States, because the internal situation of that country in no way justifies voluntary emigration.

The Interior Ministry said Zlatovskis arrived in Paris in 1949 to study under the GI Bill of Rights and automatically was granted a residence permit which is still valid.

Federal Judge Thomas F. Murphy has signed bench warrants in New York for the apprehension of the Zlatovskis.

Negroes Kidnaped By Armed Whites

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Two young Negro men who reportedly were kidnaped by a group of armed white men returned home early today. One said they were taken into the woods and beaten with rubber hoses.

Harold Cunningham, 19, said he and Henry Silent, 21, were driven to a wooded area and beaten after being questioned about where they were "two Saturdays ago."

"I don't know what they were talking about," Cunningham said. "Henry and I were working together for a paper company two Saturdays ago."

Two girls who dated the men last night said they were stopped by the white men after the Negro couples had driven into a white drive-in ice cream stand, and then left because it was too crowded.

The two girls, Lorella Washington, 17, and Aileen Brown, 23, were questioned extensively by police last night. They reported the alleged kidnaping occurred shortly after 9 p.m.

They gave this account: They were followed by two automobiles, which forced their car to stop in a section of North Birmingham, about a mile from the downtown business district.

Four white men were in each car, and they had "some pistols." The men forced the Negro youths to get into the cars, one in each, leaving the girls standing by a fence.

Cunningham said he didn't know where the men took him because they forced him to get down on the floor of a car. One of the men told him and Silent, "One of you is going to talk before you leave."

The white men also threatened first to hang and then shoot them.

Next Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Santangelo plan to leave for Potenza, where the Feast of St. Rocco will be held Aug. 17.

officers had considered the possibility of a hoax, but added: "We feel that this is a bonafide situation. The two girls are sober, and I have no reason to believe that they would lie about a thing as serious as this."

House said both the women were nearly hysterical when police reached the scene.

Officers J. O. Kelly, J. D. Lewis and Lt. Jack Warren agreed that the Negroes apparently were unknown to their assailants.

Police said they lacked an adequate description of the men and the two automobiles in which they were last seen.

WASHINGTON (U)—The Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday authorized Safeway Trails Inc. of Washington, D. C., to acquire all of the stock in Quaker City Bus Co. of Philadelphia for $750,000 and consolidate the two operations.

Safeway operates passenger bus service in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia. Quaker City's principal routes are between Philadelphia and New York and Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

The ICC said it would retain jurisdiction over the proposed consolidation for three years to assure economic protection for employees of either company who might be adversely affected by the merger.

Economic Issue Looms Large At Present

WASHINGTON.—Two issues have come to the fore to dominate the field of domestic politics as disarmament now dominates international politics.

One is civil rights. The Eisenhower Administration's bill is now before the Senate with the prospect that, after a protracted stalling operation by Southern Democrats, we are likely at long last to see legislation designed to protect the civil rights to vote in the South.

From the civil rights move, Republicans hope to gain politically.

Democrats, on the other hand, are expecting to gain from the other issue now looming large with our people. That is inflation and the consequent rising cost of living and the slow shrinkage of income of millions and millions of our people. Members of Congress are beginning to become aware of this complaint.

WHICH ISSUE will outrun the other during the next few months and have the most effect in next year's Congressional elections and perhaps in the 1960 Presidential election cannot be foreseen now. Each has special impact in big urban areas, especially in the East, where Democrats last November showed a falling-off of their once commanding strength.

The factor perhaps most responsible, both among white and Negro voters, was the prevailing prosperity, which always becomes identified with the party in power. Among the white voters, Republicans registered marked gains in the new, suburban middle-class communities that are mushrooming at the edges of our big cities.

President Eisenhower also cut down the overwhelming vote Negroes had given to the Democratic party ever since the Depression a quarter of a century ago when they shifted to the Democrats because of New Deal economic relief measures from which they benefited. With the economic issue subdued, Republicans found the civil rights issue effective among Negro voters.

DEVELOPING it they stressed heavily the antagonism to civil rights bills among Southern Democrats who occupied key places in the Democratic-controlled Congress, notably the Judiciary Committee of which Senator James O. Eastland of Mississippi is chairman.

That was boiled down into the simple slogan which was repeated over and over among Negroes: "A vote for Stevenson is a vote for Jim Eastland."

Ironically, Adlai Stevenson, who was much more outspoken on civil rights than President Eisenhower, was defeated. But a Democratic Congress was elected, so Jim Eastland still was in his key position.

Again he became the obstacle. But now Senate Republicans decided to abandon "Senatorial courtesy" and make him the target, thus dramatizing the Southern Democratic blockade.

This they did through the extraordinary procedure of sending the House-approved bill directly to the calendar, thus short-circuiting the Judiciary Committee where for six months Eastland and his Southern Democratic allies had bottled up a similar bill.

ACCORDING to plan, Senator William F. Knowland of California, Republican Senate leader, moved on Monday to take the measure off the calendar and consider it, thereby precipitating what looks like a last-ditch fight by Southern Democrats.

This fight can last for weeks, which is perfectly all right with Knowland. For every day the battle goes on, it reveals the deep schism in the Democratic party over civil rights.

By holding the Democratic party's "Southern exposure" before the country, the Eisenhower Administration hopes to hold the Negro votes it won away in the last election and gain recruits.

Once again the economic issue could become uppermost with both white and Negro voters and start a shift back to the Democratic party among Eisenhower supporters. Democrats are beginning to bear down on the rising cost of living. They believe it may become the overwhelming issue, reinforced as it can be with the big business complexion of the Administration.

THE BREAD winner is being pinched more and more by inflation. Nor does he find any particular interest here in reducing his taxes. At the same time he is informed of the easing of taxes through quick tax writeoffs for huge corporations, including electric and gas utilities which operate with a guaranteed rate of return.

He knows, too, about the "depletion" allowance and other deductions for big oil companies. Nobody gives him a depletion allowance or a tax writeoff. In fact, the rank and file taxpayer must make up the loss of revenue to the government caused by tax-evasion devices open to those fully able to pay.

At the same time, the value of the "rainy-day" long-range investment which millions of Americans made at the behest of their government—government savings bonds—is shrinking because of inflation. That explains the rush in recent months to cash them.

Glancing Sideways

VICTORIA, Mex. — You sit out under a Mexican sky in which the stars shine thickly as sand on a beach. On the terrace an orchestra is playing; in the swimming pool, the waters splashed by the stars, and the people dive and play.

You are heisted back in a fanciful chair, with an empty one alongside, when a slim, tall American slides into it and says he has had a long, mountainous drive from Tamazunchale to the calls it Thomas "n' Charlie, as does everyone else), he is from Elyria, Ohio, and where are you from? So you tell him and have a story handed to you.

CHARLES W. Young, and I'm going to call him Charlie here and now, is the first man I ever met who has had fun with a school bus. He bought one five years ago because his lovely blonde bride knew a member of the school board and at a dinner party one night Charlie had sense enough to ask: "What do you do with discarded school buses?" The man told him they sold them, if possible, and Charlie said, "Well, you can sell one to me."

HIS SECOND good break was that he works for Bendix-Westhousen in Elyria and some inventive folk there became interested in watching Charlie convert a used school bus into a functional, efficient land yacht. They installed air brakes in it for him. Meanwhile, Charlie was ripping out seats and building in two double-decker bunks in the back, with an aisle between.

Then he put in a running water sink, a yacht-type, three-burner butane stove, an ice refrigerator and a play table with facing seats so that the two younger Youngs would have something to do between stops.

He also installed other functional equipment and when it was all done, and the bus repainted, he made a family statement: "For 25 days each year we are going to see something of the world we live in."

His son was one year old then—he is six now. He knows five Summers of travel: Michigan and Canada, New York City and the Adirondacks, Mexico, etc.

Next Summer, if he wants to know, his father is going to take them all to Yellowstone.

"THE FIRST year cost money, counting what it took to convert it," said Charlie. "The second year cost less and now all it costs us to travel is gasoline, a small fee for connecting onto motel lighting systems, and the food we buy to cook. We cook our own and it's like being at home."

"Our daughter is nine now and helps her mother tidy the bus in the mornings and cleaning up after meals. It's the most wonderful way to travel I could have imagined. We average out at about 45 miles an hour and 10 miles per gallon of gas. I do all the driving and my wife keeps the bus functional and the children amused."

Mrs. Young came out about then and furnished the distaff side of things. She found keeping the bus neat was no job, cooking was no chore and this kind of travel at such low cost was interesting to the two adults and educationally fascinating to the two children.

"WE'RE BEYOND any problem stages with the children," she said, "but a young couple we know even figured that out and I'd like to pass it along to other young couples who think they can't travel with infants. They bought two five-gallon milk cans and put them on straps in the back of their station wagon."

"Each morning they fill each can half full with hot water from the taps in their motel room. Then they pour in a handful or so of detergent. Into one can they put the diapers of their two infants and in the other they put the baby clothes. In the late afternoon, they go into another motel and the clothes need only to be rinsed. The agitation of travel has done a wonderful job of laundering."

The Charlie Youngs of our American traveling world, and people like their friends, have used their ingenuity. Which is how and why Charlie and I sat out under a Mexican sky instead of his huddling on the shores of Lake Erie and I huddling in 52nd Street, New York.

Weeks Of The Big Wind

WASHINGTON.—The Senators from the South said they were not, either, filibustering. They were just making a few well-chosen remarks about whether the Senate should even consider the civil rights bill.

Later on, when this comes to a vote, they'll have a few more remarks about the bill itself. They were in such a talkative mood that one of the veterans of the legislative mills muttered they'd be eating their "Thanks-giving dinner, between speeches, in the Senate relectory."

The question at the moment, of course, is when is a filibuster not a filibuster? When I left at a late hour Senator Sam J. Ervin was filling in the blanks (with a strong voice) between the excerpts of his remarks which he'd sent to the press gallery. These excerpts ran eight single-spaced, legal-sized pages.

THERE WERE 20 Southern Senators against even voting to consider the bill, and chief among them was Senator Richard B. Russell who'd just discovered one of those embarrassing too-boos from the House of Representatives.

The House some time ago had passed the civil rights bill. Now it was printed neatly in booklet form and the gentleman from Georgia was pointing out that where it said there was an amendment on Page 13, it actually was on Page 8. Or maybe this was vice versa. Anyhow, said Russell, this wasn't the bill that the Senate was supposed to consider.

SENATOR William F. Knowland, who brought up the measure, retorted that this was a mere misprint, a technicality. Even as he said it, he realized that the Southerners considered technicalities meat for their grinder. Anything that might delay a vote suited them, and Russell said he'd have a few more remarks later on whether the Senate was worrying with the wrong piece of legislation.

Came then Senator Wayne Morse, who said he was prepared to vote for civil rights, all right, but that he intended to offer a motion referring the bill to the Judiciary Committee. He said:

Eight million Moslems look at it otherwise.

"The essential first step," says Kennedy, "is the independence of Algeria along the lines of Tunisia and Morocco."

"Unfortunately," he adds later, "the Tunisians and Moroccans also know they owe little if anything to the United States for their new-found freedom."

Again he says, "No matter how complex the problems posed by the Algerian issue may be, the record of the United States in this case is, as elsewhere, a retreat from the principles of independence and anti-colonialism."

There is a lot of old-fashioned American support for the underdog in this doctrine which is not without political appeal. A fair estimate is that this speech has hurt Kennedy's political standing one bit.

Reporter's Notebook

GATLINBURG, Tenn.—Few Americans today are familiar with a bizarre period on the frontier when Franklin, the "Lost State," almost became the 14th star in the U. S. flag.

It is told here nightly to thousands of tourists who attend "Chuckey Jack," an outdoor drama written by Kermit Hunter, one of the most successful authors of this type of pioneer sagas.

These dramas, which afford a painless way to learn history while cooling off under the stars, are spreading in popularity throughout America, and "Chuckey Jack" is among the best.

The cast of 92 unites the talents of Broadway professionals, college drama students, and local residents.

The role of Thomas Jefferson, for example, is played by Richard Bunting, chef and manager of the New Gatlinburg Inn restaurant, who formerly was a Broadway dancer.

"CHUCKEY JACK" is built around the fabled exploits of John Sevier, a frontiersman who became known as the "Father of Tennessee."

Less well-known nationally than other sons of "The Volunteer State" such as Davy Crockett, Andrew Jackson and Sam Houston, he is a regional hero here and played a key role in the America's early westward expansion.

A veteran of King's Mountain and other Revolutionary War engagements, Sevier fought 32 battles with the Cherokee and Creek Indians to open for settlement the lands beyond the Great Smoky Mountains.

Angered at lack of what he considered proper military support in these campaigns from the North Carolina Legislature, Sevier joined the settlers in a revolt to set up the State of Franklin. He became its first governor.

THIS COLOURFUL experiment in pioneer self-rule lasted from 1785 to 1788, when the State of Franklin collapsed in a state of chaos.

Sevier was charged with treason by North Carolina, but later served in its Legislature, the national Congress, and became the first governor of Tennessee, when it was admitted to the Union as the 16th state.

He engaged in a bitter personal feud with Andrew Jackson, and died in 1815 at the age of seventy.

While it lasted, the short-lived State of Franklin fought hard to preserve its dignity as a legal body.

The courts, under Sevier, dealt stern justice.

Here is the ruling against a man convicted as a horse thief:

"It is therefore ordered that the said Elias Pyburne be confined in the public pillory one hour; that he have both his ears nailed to the pillory and severed from his head; that he receive at the public whipping post 39 lashes well laid on; and be branded on the right cheek with the letter 'T' and on the left cheek with the letter 'T.'"

Today you'll find very few horse thieves in Tennessee, the state "Chuckey Jack" did so much to found.

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON.—Most of my fellow oracles who feel they can spare a few minutes from civil rights are currently engaged in evaluating the shakeup in the Kremlin. They write with the positiveness that is accepted only from those who are guessing. Inasmuch as I haven't been in Russia either, I will tell you what I think the anti-party purge portends.

The ousting of Georgi Malenkov, Lazar Kaganovich, and Vyacheslav Molotov, means—unless there are other factors not yet discernible—that Malenkov, Kaganovich and Molotov are out.

Conversely, although this could be modified by the fact that the geophysical year is due to last eighteen months, the elevation to the presidency of N. S. Kozlov, Otto Kuusinen, and Mrs. Ekaterina Fursleva probably means—barring a last minute shift in the aurora borealis—that good old F. R., Otto, and Ekaterina are in.

EKATERINA is the first woman to make the ruling body of the Communist party, but whether she will bring a softening influence to it we can only wait and see.

My soothsaying colleagues are divided as to whether the anti-party purge bodes good or ill for improved relations between the Soviet Union and the United States. Some say it bodes ill because any time the Russians make any change it bodes no good.

I see possibilities for good in it. Look any day now for Ekaterina to make a good-will tour of New York so she can go shopping.

The good that this might do could be nullified, however, if she comes on to Washington and is put up at the Blair House. The "charming widow of the Blair House," as the married Mrs. Victoria Geaney is known hereabouts for some incomprehensible reason, does not take kindly to suggestions as to how the State Department's VIP flophouse should be run.

If Ekaterina exercised her female prerogative of hording in, I would bet on Victoria to be victorious, although it might lead to war.

I would not anticipate any difficulty with Mrs. Fursleva in this country such as was had with the Russian Olympic star in London. If Ekaterina comes here and swipes a hat, we can keep the owner from hollering copper by reimbursing her out of foreign aid.

To sum up: The changes in the central committee of the Soviet Communist party lead to one inescapable conclusion: we'd better keep our left up.

MOODY REFLECTIONS by 76-year-old Senator Ralph E. Flanders, of Vermont, as he gets set to battle for Civil Rights:

"If we are determined enough, we will sit through continuously night and day, perhaps for weeks. This is the grim prospect."

"While I was walking down the corridor today my eye lit upon a reminder of the pleasant days ahead. In the paint shop I saw a stack of army coats being cleaned, varnished, and put into condition for active use. They will soon be set up in the Senate cloakrooms, in the corridor behind the Vice President's desk, and in the reading room."

"It is a responsible and exhilarating thing to be a U. S. Senator under most conditions. But, like most interesting jobs, there are occasional dreary stretches. This dreary stretch is coming fast."

(King Features, Inc.)

Soviet Pretense

THE RUSSIANS don't like the talk from President Eisenhower and top U. S. scientists that in a few years we will be able to produce an H-bomb almost "clean" of radioactive fall-out. It doesn't fit with their propaganda against the continuance of nuclear tests. The sad lament of a Soviet newspaper that the Americans are going to develop a "notorious clean bomb" with which they can destroy mankind with a greater amount of precision" have a hypocritical ring. If a clean bomb should be perfected, then the hydrogen device becomes simply a colossal explosive capable of destruction on an unprecedented mass scale. In this respect it differs thereafter only in degree from any other explosive ever employed in warfare.

THE RUSSIANS HAVE the largest land army on earth, and certainly the biggest if not the most powerful air force. Beyond doubt this military establishment is well equipped with conventional arms—whatever may be Russia's stock of nuclear weapons. The human beings who would be killed by the conventional bullets, shells and bombs used by this army in any future war would be just as dead as anyone, killed by an H-bomb, clean or otherwise. What the Soviet Union seems to be saying, as others have tried to say before, is that it is all right to kill people singly or in modest hundreds or thousands, but it is wicked to kill them in the tens or hundreds of thousands. Russia's bleeding for humanity is phony. What the Kremlin really dislikes is the fact that the United States has a commanding advantage in a field that is so important as to constitute an effective bar to all Soviet designs of major military conquests.

LEAVING ASIDE all arguments of moral character and of damage to innocent millions through fall-out, it is plain that a clean bomb would increase our advantage. It would mean we could use nuclear devices tactically with no fear that our own troops and our own population would be fatally contaminated by lethal side effects. We would much prefer not to use them at all, nor conventional weapons either. We genuinely want effective disarmament. But there is nothing contradictory in going ahead to perfect our weapons at the same time we discuss disarmament. For, much as we desire peace, we must be prepared for war, prepared to help protect ourselves and the whole free world, until that moment when real, enforceable disarmament comes into actual being.

Wagner's Opponent

NEW YORK Republicans have finally picked a candidate for mayor. Several availables have refused to run. John Roosevelt, son of the late president, was rejected by the party leaders. Instead they took Robert K. Christenberry, a 58-year-old hotel man known chiefly as the former chairman of the state boxing commission. In a city like New York a wide acquaintance is necessary if the choice of a minority party—and the Republicans are that, in this case—is to have a chance. Although the backers count on Christenberry's reputation as a successful businessman, the Democrats profess to feel no alarm that he might beat their candidate, Mayor Robert F. Wagner. It will be an interesting race.

Too Many Dusters

WAITE HOYT, now broadcasting ball games in Cincinnati and once a pitcher of parts, was reported not long ago to have declared that about one out of five pitchers will throw bean balls or dusters. This, in his opinion, is about the same proportion as was the case during his active career. Hoyt also declared that a willingness to throw dusters explained why some pitchers are popular with some major league managers. That would be hard to prove. But sooner or later, baseball will suffer and find itself in trouble unless the practice of dusting off the batters can be curbed.

ROUGH RIDING — The man who claims he led the famed charge up San Juan Hill in the Spanish-American War is having rough riding these days. Former Pvt. Alfred C. Petty, 80, right, seeks the Medal of Honor for his part in the battle that immortalized Teddy Roosevelt's "Rough Riders." However, Secretary of Army Wilbur Brucker says the Department of the Army opposes a private bill by Rep. John J. McFall (D-Calif.) to give Petty the famous medal.

Doctor Takes Civil Suit To High Court

More Developments
Emerge In Already Complicated Case

BALTIMORE, (AP) — Dr. Robert H. Reddick, embroiled in a legal fight with the state for more than a year, is appealing a civil suit to the U.S. Supreme Court and asking that his trial on criminal charges be moved out of Baltimore.

The almost simultaneous developments put two new wrinkles in the already complex case involving the man ousted as chief psychiatrist at Eastern Shore State Hospital.

Dr. Reddick and his attorney have asked the Maryland Court of Appeals to note an appeal to the nation's highest court but did not indicate what legal questions they might raise.

The case being appealed originated last fall when Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert brought a civil action against Reddick. Judge Joseph R. Byrnes enjoined the homeopathic examining board from holding examinations or issuing licenses to practice medicine. His ruling was upheld by the Court of Appeals.

The Maryland Legislature followed up this year by abolishing the homeopathic board and giving all licensing authority to the Maryland Medical and Chiropractical Faculty.

In the criminal proceeding, Dr. Reddick pleaded innocent yesterday — before Circuit Judge E. Paul Mason — to perjury and conspiracy charges.

Dr. Reddick was one of seven persons arraigned on the perjury charge in connection with their affirmation that signatures on a Dr. Reddick petition were genuine. The petition called for a referendum on Maryland's new Medical Practices Act.

The request for change of venue was made at the same time on a contention that Dr. Reddick has received adverse publicity here. Judge Mason denied it temporarily on a technicality and Morgan L. Anaimo, attorney for Reddick, said the proper motion would be made formally later.

Dr. Reddick and Dr. Joseph A. Gotz, Maryland chiropractor living in Washington, a jointly indicted on a charge of conspiring to violate the Medical Practices Act.

Specifically, the state contends the two attempted to provide spurious medical credentials for an out-of-state woman.

Approximately 100 persons visited the new and spacious office building which has been leased by the DES from the Mountaineer Corporation of Cumberland for 10 years. Many of the visitors were local employer representatives as well as county, state and city leaders, including State Senator Charles M. See and his wife, Mayor Roy W. Eves, Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon, Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason and many others.

Public May Inspect

Declaring that the new building will always be open for inspection by the public, Kimble issued an invitation to workers, employers and the community in general to visit the office and familiarize themselves with the services available.

Francis A. Kenney, manager of the Cumberland office, said the new building, a one-story brick and concrete-block structure designed and constructed specifically for Employment Security operations, is one of five such new structures to be occupied by department offices in Maryland. The others are in Annapolis, Cambridge, Salisbury and Westminster.

"By operating in quarters suited to our needs," Kenney said, "we hope to increase efficiency and improve our services to both employers and workers in the Cumberland area."

Outlines Program

He pointed out that the Department of Employment Security has a many-sided program which includes disbursement of unemployment insurance benefits, dissemination of economic statistics and other data, and such services as job placement, farm placement, employment counseling, testing veterans programs, job analysis and programs for youth, older workers and handicapped workers. In the fiscal year ended in June of last year the Cumberland office paid $863,576 in insurance benefits in Allegany County. Under similar programs financed by the federal government, $117,496 was paid to unemployed veterans and $9,184 to unemployed federal workers. Allegany County employers made contributions to the state insurance fund of $333,120, he said.

During the same period the Cumberland office placed 2,997 workers in agricultural and non-agricultural jobs, administered aptitude tests to 1,840 persons, and gave employment counseling to 1,690 persons. In addition to Kimble and Kenney, DES officials at yesterday's open house were T. Water Gough, director of local office operations; John B. Henry, director of personnel and training; Vernon P. Nengel, director of fiscal management; Max A. Orlowe, employer-employee consultant; Donald E. Ebersole, field supervisor for Western Maryland; Henry B. Cicile, superintendent of service and supply; and Frank Gay, director of public relations.

Child Specialist Hits Punishment Methods

COLLEGE PARK, Md., (AP)—frequently made: attempting to punish a child for more than one thing at a time.

The speaker was Fritz Radl, chief of child research at the clinical center of the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md. The teachers are attending a special summer lecture series here at the University of Maryland. Radl covered teachers as well as parents. Sometimes, he said, teachers spend "more time barking at children than teaching them," he added. "Sometimes the teacher's process of emphasizing to a group of students not to do something—such as smoking—encourages a child who would not ordinarily be interested in doing it anyway." "Today's teen-ager," he said, "is judged guilty before he is declared innocent."

Local Seabees Get Citations

Four members of Naval Reserve Seabee Division 5-7, located at the Naval Reserve Training Center on McKaig's Hill, have been presented citations for outstanding rating in training duty. Lt. Cmdr. W. W. Hill, commanding officer of the unit, said the ratings were given to Miss Mildred E. Peterson, yeoman stenographer 2/c; James E. Wilson, yeoman typist 1/c; Boyd C. Rice, electrician chief; and James K. Koerner, yeoman stenographer chief. Commander Hill, who said that Koerner received a similar citation last year, pointed out that only about two per cent of the Navy personnel receive such a rating. The sea horse is believed to be the only fish with a grasping tail.

Russia Gets Millions From Americans Yearly

NEW YORK (AP)—Russia is collecting millions of dollars annually from persons in the United States who have to pay big fees to insure deliveries of food parcels to Russian citizens, the Herald Tribune said last night.

The newspaper estimated that Russia collected more than 3½ million dollars in "fees" to insure delivery of such packages last year alone. In most cases, the newspaper said, persons submitted to the maneuver when they learned that packages sent through regular U.S. mails never reached relatives still residing in Russia.

Most of those sending packages to Russia are former refugees, the newspaper said, adding:

"Readers of local emigre newspapers learn of American companies, acting as agents for Soviet organizations, who will guarantee delivery of their gift packages inside Russia—for a fee."

The newspaper cited one example in which a Brooklyn man took a package to such a firm, named Parcels to Russia, Inc., of Brooklyn. The package's value was placed at $22.10 but the Brooklyn man had to pay an additional $29.44 to insure safe delivery.

"There was no explanation concerning the USSR and the 'inspection' charges," the newspaper said. In addition, the sender was obliged to fork over another $6.17 in U.S. postage charges.

Khrushchev's Future Moves Studied

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Interest is high in whether Nikita Khrushchev will climax his purge of Molotov & Co. with murder.

Probably not, but in history the really important matter will be his motives and intent after the purge.

The communique announcing Russia's latest political upheaval stressed issues—rigid communism, rigid xenophobia and plotting. Since then it has appeared that nine-tenths of the trouble, at least, was that the losers insisted on their right, under collective government, to disagree with Khrushchev.

"They thought they could take over power and you know how it ended," brags Khrushchev during his visit to Czechoslovakia. That is a revelation of what is uppermost in his mind. Regardless of the front he tries to put on it, he is beginning to feel himself both inflexible and secure. That's just what success did to Stalin.

There is no indication that the Kremlin shakeup had anything to do with the stalemate which has developed in London over disarmament. That was foreordained by the fact that none of the powers are ready for disarmament, and that it is something to be considered by friendly nations, not avowed enemies.

Khrushchev, with regard to war, said in Czechoslovakia that Russia would never use her might for war "except against aggressors as we used it when the British, French and Israeli aggressors attacked Egypt." Russia still contends her threat to use guided missiles stopped that action. That time Russia was, for once, on the side of world opinion. But she retains strange ideas about what constitutes aggression, as when she intervened so brutally in Hungary while criticizing Western action in Egypt. In Hungary she charged imperialist-led counter-revolution.

Khrushchev has never made any apology for that, indeed, he warned Eastern European patriots that Russia would "defend" any of the Communist countries as her own. That's just what she considers them—her own.

It does appear, however, that Khrushchev is a lot smarter than either Stalin or Molotov in maneuvering against the West. He isn't always doing or saying something to enhance fear and therefore cement the "eastern alliance."

This makes him the more dangerous if, he intends to obtain atomic disarmament so that Russia use the system she used in Hungary to help Red cadres in everwidening areas of the world.

Six Enlisted In Air Force

Six area men have enlisted this week in the Air Force, and have been sent to Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, for base training.

According to Sgt. James C. Owens, recruiter in charge of the local station, the July quota for enlistments here has been filled and August is about two-thirds filled. In fact, eight men in addition to those accepted, were returned here from Baltimore to await a July quota.

The Cumberland recruiting office, effective immediately, will assume the responsibility of recruiting in three more counties, Mineral, Hampshire and Garrett. The local station has been recruiting in Allegany and Bedford counties.

The six men who were accepted for duty include Ronald G. Hendrickson, Bedford Road; John M. Lyons, 617 Miller Avenue; John R. James, Grantsville; Ronald L. McKenzie, Mt. Savage; Donald L. Messenger, Corriganville, and Terrance L. Veach, RD 1, Bedford, Pa.

Local Marine Group Undergoes Inspection

The Sixth Special Infantry Company, USMCR, underwent a personal inspection today at McKaig's Hill.

Major R. Landwehr, assistant director of the Marine Reserves in Maryland and West Virginia, and Capt. Welden Vest, were scheduled to conduct the inspection.

Arizona tree farmers each sold an average of more than $2,000 worth of timber products last year.

Rock Creek Park Route Plan Revived

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP)—A plan to use Rock Creek Park as a means of routing Maryland's Route 240 into Washington is to be revived by the Montgomery County Council and suburban Maryland planners.

The Council and the Montgomery County members of the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission agreed at a closed meeting Monday to restudy the controversial Rock Creek Park route.

Originally a 2½ mile link from near Forest Glen to the District line below East-West Highway was part of the county's 1952 master highway plan. It was shelved, however, after heavy opposition from Rock Creek Park residents and the National Capital Planning Commission.

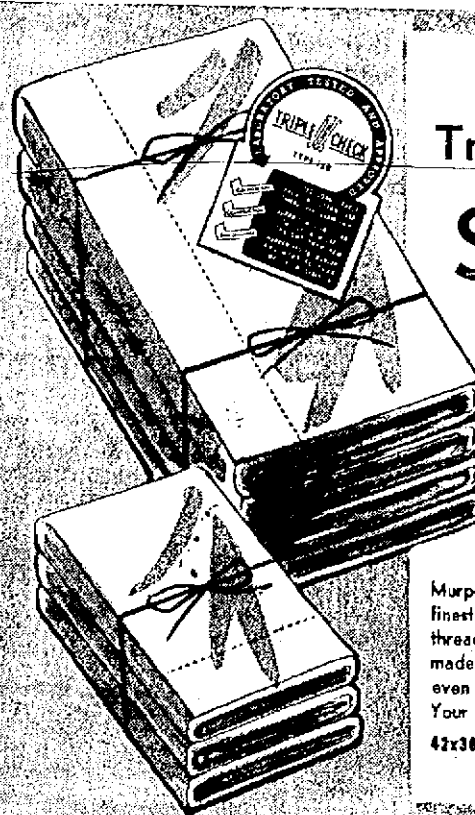

The Rock Creek link is expected to be brought up at a meeting of Maryland, District and Federal officials on July 19, at which time alternate routes will be considered.

Weissmiller, Oscar Shober, Russell Paupe and Galen Storer.

Cast, Writer Score On Kraft Drama

By JACK O'BRIAN
(Contributed by International News Service)

NEW YORK (INS) — Kraft's drama last night was just wonderful. Edward Mulhare was fine. Susan Cabot a doll but Frank Conroy separated the mud from the boys with one of TV's finest, delectable performances. Geoffrey Toone not only was good as Mulhare's fictional brother, but he even looked enough like him to be.

The play's the thing, of course, and the hero was TV writer Mort Wishengrad, who adopted the Galsworthy original with a delicate combination of realism and near-poetry.

Edgy Gorme and Steve Lawrence, who'll announce their engagement one of these editions, will get paid to sing love-songs together on the July 27 Julius La Rosa show.

"Death Valley Days" looked more historic than historic last night on NBC-TV.

Emmett Kelly was pretty dull on the Danone show, which was up to its usual standard except for some sprightly guests — Jimmy Dean, who has it all over Elvis Presley in looks, manners, neatness, musicianship and sense of humor.

And Jaye P. Morgan, who has that elusive wallop — tremendous vitality plus a flock of perky femininity.

After the rock-roll doldrums, Dean's country music sounded like Sinatra.

Why so many fairy tales scheduled for TV next season? They're in the public domain, and anyone can take 'em.

16 B&O Trains To Move Scouts To Valley Forge

Trains of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad are taking part in the mass movement of Boy Scouts from all over the country to the Fourth National Jamboree which gets underway tomorrow at Valley Forge, Pa.

A spokesman for the company said the railroad has scheduled 16 special trains to handle the migration in addition to all the regular trains traveling to the big camp out on the regularly scheduled passenger trains.

The B&O will carry more than 1,000 additional Scouts on the return trip from the Jamboree. Most of this extra thousand will take advantage of the B&O's route through the nation's capital for additional opportunities of sightseeing.

A total of 8,700 Boy Scouts are expected to use the B&O's facilities upon the completion of the Jamboree next weekend.

Exception
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 10.—Pvt. Harold Brokshouder of Fort Carson, Colo., a native of Lawton, Okla., is the only member of the 39th Infantry Regiment allowed to deviate from the standard GI haircut. The reason: He's full-blooded Apache Indian. Brokshouder has a strip of hair down the center of his scalp which, he says, is traditional for the Apaches.

"The Diamonds" at least have a lively sense of humor about the ridiculous noises they inflict.

One of Vic Damone's major problems, aside from his verbal clumsiness, is his "comedy" writers. They write shrugs, not smiles.

Althea Gibson and Hurricane Jackson will be aboard Ed Sullivan's CBS-TV show Sunday.

Gleason, an "exclusive" CBS chaffel, will have his "Honey-mooners" rerun on NBC starting Sept. 24; Jimmy Durante, an equally exclusive NBC man, is being rerun on CBS.

Gisela Mackenzie politely turned down the star role in Meredith Willson's Broadway tune show "Music Man" to concentrate on TV.

Jack Benny topped the radio Nielsen again.

Top nine daytime radio network shows are soap opera; No. 10 is A. Godfrey.

Late flash: There could be either a Ford of a General Motors in Bing's TV future.

One of the first "Seven Lively Arts" episodes this fall will be "The Changing Ways of Love."

Written by S. J. Perelman, who sent word he couldn't be at the Oscar awards to accept his "30 Days" statuette "for a variety of reasons — all of them spicy."

CBS "Look Up And Live" Covers Vital Issues

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—"Look Up and Live," the excellent CBS-TV public affairs program appearing Sunday mornings (10:30 a.m., EDT) is presenting a series, entitled "The Seeking Years," that explores the problems of young men and women on the threshold of maturity.

Last Sunday in "A Thing of Beauty" by Howard Rodman, three young Broadway actresses—Diana Van der Vlis, Sarah Marshall and Brynari Lee—played superbly the roles of three competitors in a college beauty contest.

The excellent impressionistic staging that marks "Look Up and Live" was ideally suited to thoughtfully playing on the age-old idea of what constitutes beauty. While this little morality play naturally could not ignore the truth that beauty is of the mind or soul rather than the flesh, it avoided the old clichés far more ably than has many a publicized nighttime TV drama.

Next Sunday "The Seeking Years" will examine juvenile delinquency. The following two Sundays will deal with racial relations between teenagers. It is with regret one hears that some southern television stations have refused to show the last two programs of the series.

Combining the finest artistic qualities of the television medium with the sincerity that marks the devout and intelligent of all faiths, "The Seeking Years" brings to the home screen the essence of modern religious thought and emotion.

Baltimore Not Interested In Bullfights

BALTIMORE, Md. — Open letter to Jaime Gonzalez A., tourist agent and bullfight aficionado, Cartagena, Columbia, South America:

Sorry, but the City of Baltimore wants no bullfight, even if softened up so much it no longer resembles a bullfight.

When Senor Gonzalez first wrote Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro that Baltimoreans might like to watch the brave bulls, there was nothing among city ordinances forbidding it. So the city solicitor's office advised the South American to apply to the Bureau of Receipts for a permit.

Gonzalez must have sensed the city was attempting to turn him down gracefully.

"First of all," he wrote the second time, "you must know that the bull is not going to be hurt at all and is not going to be killed."

He went on to say: the bull would get a leather jacket seven or eight inches thick; the banderillas would only be placed on the animal's back, not inserted; the bull would be allowed one minute's rest in every five; there would be three matadors, one a girl, one a clown and only one serious.

City Treasurer John J. Ghinger conferred with the mayor, then wrote Gonzalez that because bull fights never have been held here they "would not be understood."

Prisoner Gets Release Under New State Law

BALTIMORE (AP)—Clayton E. Breeding was released from the Maryland House of Correction today in one of the first cases invoking a new state law.

The act of the 1957 General Assembly, which became effective June 1, gives Patuxent Institution inmates credit for time they spend there undergoing psychiatric tests.

Chief Judge Emory H. Miles ruled in Baltimore City Court today that Breeding was entitled to credit on his prison sentence for almost one year he was confined in Patuxent to determine if he is a defective delinquent.

Breeding was sentenced Dec. 19, 1955, in Caroline County Circuit Court to 18 months in the House of Correction on burglary and larceny charges. Last December, he was adjudged not to be a defective delinquent.

Prior to the legislative act, the Maryland Court of Appeals had ruled that time spent at Patuxent did not count on sentences.

Anglers Nab Only Three In ILT Tourney

Fishermen Spend $18,315 For Thrill Of Catching Marlin

By GEORGE BOWEN
OCEAN CITY, Md. — What do you think of spending $18,315 to catch three fish? That's what its costing anglers in the 12th annual International Light Tackle Tournament. There are 99 of them and in two days only three have been able to hook and reel in a marlin.

Each angler paid $185 to fish during the three days of the tournament which ends tomorrow. Their travel expenses from as far away as California, Mexico and Cuba are additional along with the cost of living in a summer resort for about a week. They do it just for the thrill of using a line the size of a heavy thread to pull in marlin averaging 70 pounds and then let most of them go.

Only Luis Dellos of Montecello, N.Y., John Rybovich of West Palm Beach and Leonard Robbins of New Rochelle N.Y., have experienced it so far.

Dellos succeeded on opening day and the two others scored yesterday. Dellos and Rybovich each got the maximum, 100 points because they had their billfish alongside the boat and released in less than 30 minutes.

Robbins wanted to take his home to be mounted. He was timed in 35 minutes doing it so received only 63 points. His protest of the timing is pending before a committee.

Dellos is fishing for the Panama Rod and Reel Club, Rybovich for the Sailfish Club of Florida and Robbins for the Tri-Anglers Club of New York.

Each club has three fishermen competing for the top prize—a leather belt.

Only one marlin has been hooked besides the three scores in wide roaming of the Atlantic Ocean by the 33 boats.

Milton Chaski of Baltimore had one almost within his reach yesterday when his line, testing 20 pounds of pull, broke.

Last year at this time of the month with a comparable number of boats working the same area in non-tournament fishing the least caught on a single day was 30. As many as 37 were taken.

During today's time out for the men, about a dozen of their wives went out to try their hand at the game.

Modern Means 'Sell' The Bard

BENSON, Ariz. (M)—Fred Bechett, an English teacher at Benson High School, took his cue from the advertising world to induce his pupils to attend a Shakespearean play in Tucson.

He wrote on his blackboard: "The ghost of your murdered father demands that you kill his murderer. Your girl friend becomes insane and drowns herself because you have killed her father by mistake. You have a chance to kill the murderer as he kneels in prayer. What decision would you make? See how Hamlet meets these problems on Friday."

Forty pupils succumbed to the soap opera pitch and journeyed some 50 miles to Tucson to see the Shakespearean classic.

Latest Presidential Puzzlement-Civil Rights

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (M)—On three major issues this year—the budget, disarmament and the civil rights bill — President Eisenhower has caused puzzlement if not confusion by his public statements. The latest is on civil rights.

He had to go back and do some unscrambling on the budget and on disarmament. He didn't start fighting for his budget until it was almost too late. It remains to be seen whether he fights for his administration-backed civil rights measure.

His position on this has now angered one of the civil rights bill's strongest supporters, Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), who said yesterday: "There seems to be no fight in this administration."

On the record peacetime budget of nearly 72 billion dollars which he offered Congress early this year, Eisenhower first took the position it was light as could be. But he said it was the duty of Congress to cut it if could.

As an economy wave swept over the country and Congress, he started talking of ways the budget could be cut. Congress took this as a go-ahead to do some real cutting. Then Eisenhower had to make a nationwide broadcast to appeal for support against cuts in the budget.

That might not have been necessary if he had fought for the budget from the beginning. On disarmament he had been pretty consistent in saying this country insisted on foolproof guarantees against Russian cheating.

But at his June 19 news conference he so badly scrambled what he said that some reporters came away thinking they had heard a major change in American policy. Some thought the opposite. The White House finally had to explain there was no change.

The Republicans promised action on civil rights in their 1958 campaign. Eisenhower made it a major part of his program in his State of the Union message to Congress in January. A bill was written in the Justice Department. Atty. Gen. Brownell fought for it all year.

It got hearings in the Senate and House judiciary committees. Celler helped pass in the House, over the protests of Southern Democrats, the kind of bill Eisenhower's administration asked for.

All year Eisenhower kept saying it was a "moderate and decent bill." By last week his Senate Republicans were ready to fight to get the civil rights bill through.

Eisenhower had had plenty of time to familiarize himself thoroughly with the bill, either by careful reading or briefings from Brownell. But on July 1 Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), the Southern leader, called it "devious... vicious... cunning."

And at his July 3 news conference Eisenhower said he had been reading the bill that morning and found parts he couldn't understand. This aided the Southerners, who could argue it was so devious that Eisenhower couldn't understand his own bill.

Rumors soon floated around the capital about a "compromise" to pacify the Southerners. Yesterday Russell saw Eisenhower 50 minutes, came away saying Eisenhower's mind was "open... not closed to amendments which would clarify the bill." Eisenhower, nevertheless, was understood to have made no commitments.

By this time Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, can't see a Truman or a Roosevelt — Teddy or FDR — yielding so pusillanimously.

Workers For County To Get Pay Increase

Ten Per Cent Hike Order Scheduled For Action Tomorrow

Approximately 235 county employees will be granted a ten per cent pay increase, the Evening Times learned today.

An order for the ten per cent hike in wages will be introduced for passage tomorrow at the meeting of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners.

An informed source said that at least two of the three commissioners will vote "yes" to the order.

For All Departments

Earlier this year, representatives of the County Roads Department workers requested an increase in wages, and tomorrow's action will distribute the boost to all departments.

Affected will be 40 employees at Sylvan Retreat, 20 at the County Home, 80 at the County Infirmary, 75 in the roads department, and 20 in the county commissioners' office.

The last wage raise for county workers was granted by the commissioners in 1955, a very small, flat increase for all departments.

Improved Protection

An informed source pointed out that tied in with the merit, or civil service, system the county is putting into effect, which will have sick leave and vacations, the job situation with the county will be improved.

Salaries today in most departments are very low, and prior to a civil service system, there was little security for tenure of jobs.

A change in the makeup of the board of county commissioners could result in wholesale firings and hirings.

Although this has not been true in recent years, there was no protection for the worker from this tenuous situation.

Appropriations for the 1957-58 fiscal year made in April included the anticipated ten per cent wage boost, it was pointed out today.

Truck Firms Check Cost For Detour

Trucking firms of the Everett area are busy compiling figures on potential revenue losses in hopes that they may be able to have solid information ready for a conference next week with State Highway Dept. officials on the detour situation east of Everett.

The firms contend they will lose thousands of dollars if the state goes through with its announced plan to close U.S. Route 30 between Everett and Breezewood for a year starting in the fall, during a reconstruction project on six miles of it. Under current plans, the State would establish a 67-mile "official" detour through the Broad Top area, although most truck traffic would use the shorter, 26-mile "unofficial" detour, by coming to Bedford on U.S. 30 and going to Breezewood by the Turnpike.

Everett is seeking a change in plans to set up a temporary "Everett Interchange" on the Turnpike for truck-traffic use in Breezewood, to bypass the closed part of Route 30. Truck companies have warned they will probably be forced to close their Everett operations and move elsewhere unless some such arrangement can be made.

Nedford county Democratic chairman Ray G. Replogle said Monday that as soon as data is compiled by the truckers, showing the exact amount of financial loss the detour would cause them, a conference will be held with highway secretary Joseph Lawler in Harrisburg on the temporary-interchange proposal.

Replogle is one of a three-man committee representing Everett's interests in the matter. Others are Democratic county commissioner C. Clair Winter, who is president of the First National Bank of Everett and the Lincoln Highway Association, and J. S. Buchanan, president of the Everett borough council.

Youth Found Guilty On Auto Counts

A 16-year-old M. Savage boy was placed on one-year probation in Trial Magistrate Court this morning after being found guilty of two motor vehicle violations.

The youth, charged with driving without a license and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, was arrested yesterday at his home by Trooper Willis Foreman of the Maryland State Police.

Magistrate Donald W. Mason found the boy guilty and sentenced him to 90 days in the Allegany County Jail and fined him $111.50 on the charges.

Magistrate Mason then suspended both the fine and jail sentence, pointing out that he did not believe the boy should be committed to the Maryland House of Correction, and that the fine would be paid by his mother, and would not serve as punishment to the youth.

Magistrate Mason, noting that it was not within his authority to send the boy to a training school, placed the youth on probation. The conditions include that he be in his home by 11 p. m. daily, not drive a motor vehicle, and obey all laws.

Trooper Foreman testified that the boy on Tuesday night stole an automobile in the 200 block of North Centre Street, owned by Frank Stakem of Frederick Street.

Trooper Foreman, along with Troopers D. A. Tucker and Carlton Lewis, stopped the car on U. S. Route 40 near the junction with Winchester Road.

After stopping the vehicle the driver "look off" over the guard rails, down an embankment, across a small stream and up over a mountain to the Cash Valley road. He was later arrested at his home.

Another 16-year-old boy and a 12-year-old boy were passengers in the car and will face delinquent charges in Juvenile Court.

City Calendar Unit To Meet

A meeting of the Community Council, which was founded to help prevent the staging of conflicting projects by local organizations, will be held tomorrow at 8 p. m. at the Historical House, 218 Washington Street.

The constitution and by-laws of the council will be ratified at the meeting, while committee assignments will be made and the duties of the committee outlined.

A report of the calendar committee will be presented, with the group also scheduled to prepare its first project—a calendar of events planned for August and September by service clubs of the area. The first calendar is expected to be published early next month, pending approval by the council membership.

Representatives of organizations desiring membership may attend tomorrow's meeting, council spokesman said.

Report Cites Motor Vehicle Law Changes

State Police Head Makes Proposals To General Assembly

BALTIMORE (AP) — State Police Supt. Elmer F. Munshower has outlined four changes in Maryland's motor vehicle laws he hopes the 1958 General Assembly will accept.

Munshower told the Committee on Motor Vehicles Legislation Council yesterday that No. 1 on the police list is "the adoption of some form of point system."

It would provide that a motorist convicted of highway violations be given a certain number of points and when a specified total is reached his license would be revoked.

Munshower also urged laws to: 1. Provide chemical tests for intoxication. 2. Provide some form of motor vehicle inspection. 3. Provide for driver education in high schools.

The committee, headed by Del. Silver (D-Balto 5th) is seeking a legislative program which would have wide support before being introduced.

In a reply to a letter sent out by the committee, Health Director Perry F. Prather wrote the council yesterday that his department is considering a survey to determine what human and environmental factors are involved in traffic accidents.

Dr. Prather said there are indications that the crux of the traffic problem lies in physical, emotional and mental factors which are a basis for further study by personnel familiar with public health methods.

Edgar Wolfe Heart Victim

Edgar S. Wolfe, 52, placement specialist for the State Employment Security Board, was found dead this morning at his home, 700 Cephar Drive.

Francis Kenney, manager of the local office of the State Employment Security Board, and C. E. Stutzman, found Wolfe at his home at 10:30 a. m.

Authorities said he was found on his bathroom floor, and death was due to a heart attack. Investigating were Lt. James E. Van, 11, Raymond R. Mooney and Officer Ernest Powell.

A native of this city, he was a son of the late Kinsey A. and Jennie M. (Dixon) Wolfe.

A 1925 graduate of Allegany High School Mr. Wolfe was the first winner of the annual Babe Award. The award is given annually to the boy displaying outstanding athletic ability, top scholastic standing, leadership, loyalty and sportsmanship during the school year.

He was a member of Calvary Methodist Church of Ridgely, Ohio Lodge 131, AF & AM, Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, and Lodge 63, BPO Elks.

Mr. Wolfe had been with the Employment Security Board since 1951. He was a veteran of World War II.

The body is at the George Funeral Home.

AHS Class Of '47 Plans Reunion

The Class of 1947 of Allegany High School will make additional plans for its reunion this summer at a meeting today at 8 p. m. in the office of Dr. Jonathan Eckhart, 110 Harrison Street.

Dr. Eckhart, reunion chairman, said all members of the class interested may attend. The reunion will be held Saturday, August 31, in the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

The deadline for questionnaires to be submitted to the reunion committee has been extended to August 1, and anyone desiring a form may contact Dr. Eckhart.

Commissioners May Decide LaVale Board Chairmanship

In an unofficial opinion of the attorney general of Maryland's legal staff, the chairmanship of the LaVale Zoning Board could be decided by the Board of Allegany County Commissioners.

The communication from Charles B. Reeves Jr., assistant attorney general, was received today by John M. Robb, attorney to the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors.

Reeves, however, pointed out to Robb that the State Law Department is not by law legal advisor to boards of election supervisors.

Up To Election Board

"The ultimate decision must be made by you as counsel for the Board of Election Supervisors of Allegany County," Reeves stated.

Robb had asked an opinion of the attorney general after John J. Rowan and C. Arthur Lancaster received 329 votes to tie for the top spot in the LaVale Zoning referendum. Leslie J. Clark, was third with 326.

The top vote getter is named the first chairman until the 1958 election and serves until 1962.

The second place candidate serves until 1960 while third is in office until the 1958 election.

As Robb noted in his letter to Reeves, the law calling for the referendum is silent on breaking a tie.

Reeves pointed to a section in the law that said "In the event that the original board cannot or is not for any reason whatsoever elected at the June 18 referendum and election, the Board of County Commissioners shall appoint the entire board as aforesaid."

No Direct Cases

Reeves said that it appears to the legal law department that the two members have not been "elected" in strict accordance with the applicable provisions of the act.

Reeves said a review of the decisions of the Court of Appeals discloses no cases directly in point.

"Our advice," he declared, "which must of necessity be only on an informal basis and offered only as a guide to you in deciding this question, is to have the Board of County Commissioners for Allegany County resolve the tie vote and appoint one of the candidates with the highest votes to serve until the general election held in 1962, and also to be chairman. The other candidate can be appointed to serve until the general election held in 1960. This, in our opinion, would give effect to the expressed wishes of the electorate and also most nearly satisfy the spirit Chapter 228, particularly sub-section c of Section 337 (The zoning act)."

The Board of Election Supervisors has not acted on the unofficial ruling, but Rowan and Lancaster have stated that they are in favor of any method suggested to break the tie, and Lancaster said he is desirous of having Rowan as chairman.

Appeal Entered In Morals Case

Robert J. Moss, 70-year-old North Centre Street man who was convicted June 26 in Juvenile Court on two charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors, entered an appeal this morning to the 18 month sentence imposed by Juvenile Magistrate Fred H. Anderson.

The appeal was made by his attorney, Julius E. Schindler, and granted despite the fact that a ten-day time limit for the appeal to be made had expired. Magistrate Anderson granted an extra day's grace explaining that he did so since his office had been closed for the July 4 holiday.

Moss has been detained in the county jail since his sentencing. His wife, Mrs. Dorothy M. Moss, who was found guilty on a single contributing charge, left last week to begin serving a six-month sentence in the Maryland Reformatory for Women.

Teenage Duo Nabbed After 2-State Chase

W. Va., New York Car Theft Counts Face New Yorkers

Two teenage New York youth were arrested yesterday in Rawlins, Wyo., after a chase from Denver by Colorado State Police who spotted the couple in a car which had been reported stolen Sunday from Keyser.

The youths, William Schult, Jr., 15, of New York City, and Arnold Theodore Dietrich, 16, of Ridgewood, N. Y., are being held in Rawlins for New York and West Virginia authorities, and also face action by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for transporting a stolen car across state lines.

Keyser authorities said they received a radio call last night from the Colorado State Police requesting information on the ownership of a 1956 model sedan carrying West Virginia license plates numbered—57043.

It was established that Thomas Bosley Jr., of Keyser, reported his car, carrying those license plates, had been stolen Sunday while he and his family were attending church services.

Bosley told police the car had first been noticed stolen when he sent a young daughter out of church to get something from the vehicle. She came back and told him she could not locate the family car and after investigating himself he notified authorities of the theft.

In connection with the investigation of the stolen Bosley auto, police discovered that an abandoned 1957 model car on McMillen Highway was found to have been stolen in New York City on the evening of June 29.

Questioning of residents of the region near McCoole brought out the fact that two young boys had been seen working on the car. Police surmise that the boys walked to Keyser from where they drove off in the Bosley vehicle.

No details of the Colorado Wyoming chase were available today, but Mineral County officials believe it was a wild one.

A picnic supper will be served at 4 p. m.

Big Increase Reported In Motor Cases

Motor vehicle cases handled by Cumberland's two trial magistrates increased 22 per cent during the first six months of 1957, as compared to the same period in 1956.

Magistrate Donald W. Mason, who compiles the report for both himself and Magistrate J. Milton Dick, also noted that fines increased 50 per cent during the period.

In the first six months of this year a total of 1,100 cases were tried by the two magistrates. The total fines for these cases netted $15,143.20. Besides the fines, the magistrates noted, a number of sentences to the Maryland House of Correction and Allegany County Jail were also issued.

During the same period in 1956 only 906 cases were tried, and the fines totaled only $10,359.55.

Magistrate Mason's report also reveals that 338 civil cases were handled this year, as compared to the 307 cases in 1956. The increase of 51 cases represents a 17 per cent hike, Mason noted.

Criminal cases handled in the local courts also showed an increase for the first six months over last year. This year 221 cases were tried, while in 1956 only 142 were heard. The 79-case increase represents a hike of 55 per cent.

Magistrate Mason's report also reveals that March 1957 was the heaviest with 243 motor vehicle cases, with fines totaling $3,483.20. June was the second heaviest with 193 cases and fines totaling $2,901.50 for motor vehicle violations.

What To Wear Wash-And-Wear Suit Automatic For Summer

WASH-AND-WEAR GLAMOR — on the man in this case — is achieved by a Daeron and Orlon blend suit.

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Even though there's a hot spell behind us, chances are there's still a couple of hot spells ahead of us. So it isn't too late to prepare, and the best thing is a cool suit. This season there aren't too many startling innovations in summer suits, but there are a few technical advances worth noting. These are in the field of wash-and-wear suits — garments that can be washed at home and hung to drip dry.

This is the first summer for the automatic wash-and-wear suit, a development of DuPont and a tailoring firm, Haspel Brothers. This improved wash-and-wear suit can now be laundered in an automatic washer and dried in an automatic dryer. But it takes a dryer with a special time cycle, and it takes the special suit. Don't try it without checking your suit's tag first.

And this is also the first summer for wash-and-wear suits in the higher-priced, better-tailored lines. Firms like H. Daroff & Sons, who make the Bolany 500 suits, now manufacture what they like to call "tailored" wash-and-wear suits, and they claim they pay more attention to style and fit than has been hitherto available with these blends.

Even if you don't go for wash-and-wear apparel, lightweight suits are still the sensible thing to wear in the summer. They come in so many different fabrics that you're bound to find some-thing you like. Here, for example, are some of the fabrics available: Synthelie fibers (Daeron, Orvalon or disease is usually the lon. Acrilan, Acetate) alone or result.

combined in varying proportions with worsted, silk or cotton; all worsted and worsted combined with mohair or silk.

Back to wash-and-wear for a few educational paragraphs. If you have a wash-and-wear suit, be advised that it takes a little thought to do a good home laundering job on it.

Don't overlook the pockets in the suit before throwing it in the machine. Brush out all the lint and dirt — a few stray tobacco shreds, for example, can raise hob in the washing. If the suit has some dirty spots, it's best to cover them with a detergent-and-water paste and let stand for about 30 minutes before washing. After it's washed, hang it carefully. A plastic hanger is best but, above all, make sure it isn't a metal hanger which can rust or don't try it without checking your suit's tag first.

It's surprising how many men try to go through the summer without any lightweight suit. A survey, conducted just this May by the Clothing Manufacturers Association of the U.S.A., shows that 57 per cent of all men have no summer suit. And, even in the cities of over 1,000,000, 49 per cent of the men had none.

Sheep, in the south of Chile, sometimes grow such heavy wool that when it rains, they get wadded and are unable to get onto their feet. Death from starvation or disease is usually the result.

Batter Up, It's Blueberry Time

HOT OFF THE GRIDDLE—But the cook keeps cool because these delicious blueberry pancakes are made in an electric skillet plugged into a porch or patio outlet.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

Blueberry Griddle Cakes are a summer favorite at our house for Sunday breakfasts. We never mind preparing them because we make them on an electric skillet right at the table. When the weather's right, breakfast is served on patio or porch and then skillet and electric coffee-maker are easily transported and plugged into outdoor outlets.

Along with the pancakes go maple syrup, of course, and crisp bacon slices. We usually cook the bacon in the electric skillet in the kitchen while we are putting together the pancake batter; then we pour off the bacon fat because we like to use a little butter or margarine in the skillet for baking the griddle cakes. If you want a change from bacon, you'll find a grilled ham steak is also a delicious go-along.

This recipe for griddle cakes calls for a cup of fresh blueberries. But sometimes by the time we have come to ladling out the batter for the last two or three cakes, there aren't any berries left in it. So we throw in some extra berries and everyone is satisfied.

Although these griddle cakes are the regulation large ones, each made with $\frac{1}{2}$ cup batter, they're definitely on the light and airy side.

BLUEBERRY GRIDDLE CAKES
Ingredients: $\frac{1}{4}$ cups sifted flour, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon double-acting baking powder, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 eggs (separated), $\frac{1}{4}$ cups milk, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted), 1 cup blueberries.
Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Beat egg whites with rotary beater (hand or electric) until they hold peaks that flop over slightly when beater is slowly withdrawn. Without washing beater, beat egg yolks and milk together until combined. Add sifted dry ingredients and melted butter and stir quickly together just until flour mixture is moistened. Fold in beaten egg whites. Cook on a hot lightly greased griddle or skillet, allowing about $\frac{1}{2}$ cup batter for each griddle cake. Turn to brown other side when bubbles form over surface. Makes about 14 pancakes, each about 4 inches across.

In order to keep filler cloths, used in coffee makers, "sweet" wash them in clear cool water right after using them. Never use soap or any other cleaner on the filters.

SPEEDY—Hot service with a cooling treat is the aim of teenager Sharon Anderson, who uses roller skates in her work as a waitress at a Chicago ice cream stand. Sharon, who claims the skates make her job more fun, and cooler, too, wheels around even behind the counter. Her employer, who resisted the idea at first, finally gave in to the 17-year-old.

Oriental Zest Given Dried Beef Dish

A main dish that needs little last minute fussing is a boon to cooks on busy days. Creamed dried beef over quick-cooking rice has this quality of being easy to prepare, although it may seem too insubstantial for hearty dinner fare.

If so, just add some drained mixed Chinese vegetables. A medley of these canned vegetables including water chestnuts, bamboo shoots, mushrooms, bean sprouts, and sweet red peppers come already packed in cans.

Oriental Creamed Beef
To make six servings prepare 2 cups of medium white sauce, omitting the salt. Add a 4 ounce package of shredded, dried beef and heat slowly about 5 minutes. Stir in 1 cup of well drained, Chinese mixed vegetables and continue cooking slowly about 5 minutes longer, or just until heated through. Add $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon soy sauce.
Serve over hot, cooked rice.

Prune Chiffon Pie Is Unique

Prunes are a healthful old-fashioned favorite, and it's fun to do different things with them! To do the palates of your family by serving this unique prune chiffon pie.

This is truly a taste sensation, covered with whipped cream and decorated with chopped walnuts, bits of cherry and a dash of cinnamon. This light-textured culinary delight serves six people. Soften 1 tablespoon of gelatin in $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of cold water. Cook $\frac{1}{2}$ cup prune pulp, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup prune juice, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind and $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar for 2 minutes. Add the softened gelatin and cook for 1 minute more. Add $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt to 2 stiffly beaten egg whites and fold into the gelatin mixture. Pour into 1 baked 9-inch pastry shell. Chill until firm. This may be covered with whipped cream and decorated with chopped nuts, bits of cherry and a dash of cinnamon.

Baked Alaska

Ready-bought sponge-cake cups can be filled with scoops of ice cream, wrapped individually in transparent plastic wrapping or aluminum foil and frozen. When you're ready to use them, cover them with meringue and bake them in a 450-degree oven about six minutes. You'll have Baked Alaska all ready for a party.

For Meat: Mint, Peach Garnish

There's no question about it, edible meat garnishes give elegance to the meal. Chops or steaks, roasts or cold cuts, a garnish makes them more enticing. "Minted Peach Garnish" is one of the very best and creates no hubbub or uproar in the kitchen. Canned cling peaches are celebrating their centennial year, a year of quality. Be sure to put them on your shopping list.

Minted Peach Garnish
6 canned cling peach halves
2 teaspoons melted butter or margarine
6 teaspoons mint jelly
Arrange peach halves, cup side up, on broiler tray. Brush with melted butter and place spoonful of jelly in each peach. Broil until peaches are heated through and slightly brown.

Spicy Biscuits Good

To make a really savory biscuit add $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon ground black pepper to $\frac{1}{4}$ cups of prepared biscuit mix. It's perfect with a hearty beef and vegetable stew.

Turkey Giblet Sandwich Spread

If you're looking for something different in the way of sandwiches, you'll want to try this delicious sandwich spread made from turkey giblets.

Use 1 cup chopped cooked giblets; 1 tablespoon each finely chopped pimiento, onion, green pepper; $\frac{1}{4}$ cup finely chopped celery; $\frac{1}{2}$ cup finely chopped sweet pickles; $\frac{1}{2}$ cup mayonnaise or thick salad dressing; salt and pepper.

If desired put vegetables and giblets through food chopper. Then mix all ingredients.

Blueberry Pudding

Prepare your favorite cottage pudding recipe. Stir in one to two cups sugared blueberries before baking. Bake in small muffin pans. Serve hot with sauce or whipped cream. Leftover muffins can be reheated for next day's breakfast.

For Lunch: Eggs Poached In Wine

This is something different for a summer lunch. In a large skillet, pour a cup of red wine and a cup of water. Add a thin sliced onion, a chopped clove of garlic, an herb bouquet and salt and pepper to taste. Boil gently for 15 minutes.

In this liquid poach 8 eggs. Remove to a heated platter. Strain the liquid in the pan, step up the heat, and reduce liquid to about half its amount. Stir 2 teaspoons of cornstarch into a little cold water, add, and simmer, stirring till sauce thickens. Pour over eggs. Serve with toast points, and sprinkle with chopped parsley.

Chuck Roast, Poultry Best Buys Of Week

Gourmet's Delight Now Available At Reasonable Price

By The Associated Press

Meat prices continue to inch up, but the budget-conscious housewife can still find occasional bargains. Best buys for the coming week-end are undoubtedly chuck roast (with the bone in) and poultry.

Backyard barbecue enthusiasts will find sirloin steak prices up a few cents a pound in many sections this week. Lower in price are rib steaks, currently featured by some Eastern food chains as weekend specials.

Turkeys Being Pushed

Chickens for frying or broiling are up one to four cents a pound, in most areas but prices are still comfortably low. Small turkeys are being heavily promoted by supermarkets this week. Turkeys of all types and sizes are definitely on the bargain list. Farmers last month were getting less than 24 cents a pound for the birds, the lowest price since 1942. Expectations are that this year's turkey crop will surpass the 1956 record of 77 million birds by a hefty five per cent.

For fastidious palates, a supermarket chain in the South is featuring Cornish hens this week. Once considered a gourmet's delight, Cornish hens are now available at prices that should not put too much of a strain on the average wage-earner's budget.

As poultry prices drift lower, beef, pork and lamb prices continue to climb. The annual summer rise in beef prices usually gets under way around Aug. 1—this year it started more than a month ahead of schedule. Market specialists say beef prices will keep on moving up until grass fed steers start coming in off the range in September.

Produce Buys Listed

Best buys on the produce counter this week include green and yellow squash, potatoes, cucumbers, spinach, carrots, celery and Eastern onions.

Peaches and watermelons from Georgia are abundant and moderately priced—the nation's peach crop is expected to be the largest in 10 years. Strawberries and blueberries are in plentiful supply, and there's an abundance of citrus fruits.

One ray of hope for consumers: Lower prices of feed grains are cutting the cost of producing meat, milk and eggs. At Chicago, feed corn is currently selling for about $1.35 a bushel, down about 19 cents from a year ago.

Rice-Cheese Puff Dish Suggested

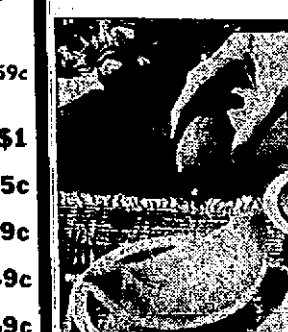

Stimulate tired appetites by injecting an interesting variety into the meals you serve your family. Serve these unique rice and cheese puffs in the place of potatoes for instance. Good accompanied with either fish or meat or as the center of interest on a vegetable plate for luncheon or supper.

Prepare the mixture in advance, and when you're ready to eat, roll in bread crumbs, and submerge them in hot deep fat until they are a crisp, golden brown. This recipe serves 6.

Use either 1 cup of raw rice or 2 cups of cooked rice. If raw rice is used, cook and drain. When cool, add 1 egg, 2 tablespoons flour, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon pepper, and chill. Shape into balls around $\frac{1}{2}$ inch cube of yellow cheese, or use $\frac{1}{4}$ pound grated cheese in the mixture.

Roll into the shape of a ball $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches to 2 inches in diameter, roll balls in bread crumbs, using $\frac{1}{2}$ cup bread crumbs for recipe. Fry in deep fat 365 degrees until crisp.

Easy Lemon Juice ...

Melons are in the market again, and melons always call for lemon juice. And, with perfect timing, you can now get lemon juice in a wonderfully handy, realistic plastic squeeze-lemon. It's called Easy-Juicer Lemon Juice, and it's in the produce department of most markets.

With this new container it's not only easy but inexpensive to give melon that delightful extra goodness. The plastic-lemon contains the natural juice of 8 tree-ripened California lemons, concentrated to double strength.

Also, there's no waste with this lemon juice in the squeeze container, no leftover halves to dry in the refrigerator and get thrown away. And the easy-juicer lemon is so attractive it can be put right on the table to be passed around so that everyone can have just the amount of lemon juice they want with their melons, or with salads, fish or tea.

Flavoring Idea For Oatmeal

No fun in eating something just because it's good for you! But when food is rich in flavor and packs a nutritional punch, too, all is well.

Hot oatmeal, for instance, will start your day off right. No interest? Then mash $\frac{1}{2}$ banana with a spoonful of molasses and stir into each serving before adding milk.

You'll like the heightened flavor, and you'll be getting that extra all-important iron that molasses provides.

Dampness and heat are enemies of instant coffee. Keep the top of the coffee jar screwed on tightly; put the jar in a cool place in your kitchen.

Beat The Heat With Iced Coffee

SUMMER DUET—Crisp brown sugar cookies and a glass of iced coffee make a cooling combination for the dog days ahead.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

These crisp brown-sugar cookies, along with a glass of iced coffee, are a wonderful pickup about four o'clock on a warm summer afternoon.

For those who like their beverage strong and not-too-sugary, there's something satisfying about these sweet, extra-crunchy tidbits for an occasional snack. Their pecan trim gives them a certain tang.

Pecan Pennies
Ingredients: 2 cups sifted cake flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup shortening, 1 1/2 cups dark brown sugar (firmly packed), 1 egg, 1/4 cup finely chopped pecans, small pecan halves.

Method: Sift together the cake flour, baking soda and salt. Cream shortening and brown sugar; beat in egg thoroughly. Add sifted dry ingredients and chopped pecans, and mix in with a spoon. If dough is too soft to shape with hands refrigerate until firm or overnight. Or roll at once into small balls, each about 1/2-inch apart on very lightly greased baking sheets. Press a whole small pecan half on top of each cookie. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 8 to 12 minutes. Remove from oven and allow to stand a minute or two before removing to cooling racks with spatula. When cold store in tightly covered container. Makes about 100 cookies.

Note: About 1 1/4 cups pecan halves will be needed for this recipe.

Breakfast Of Broiled Pears With Bacon

For an extra-special Sunday is a Pear Lime Pie. Crush 16 condensed milk mixture. Pour into breakfast, serve broiled Bartlett pears into fine crumbs and crust. Beat the 2 egg whites until stiff with 1/4 cup melted butter (oil stiff), adding 1/4 cup sugar at a time. Pile lightly on pie filling. Simply wash, halve and core or two of crumbs to sprinkle on and seal to edge of pie shell. Broiler rack. Dot with butter and top. Press crumbs and butter to top. Sprinkle with brown sugar. Place rack about 3 to 4 inches under broiler unit and broil about 5 to 7 minutes or until butter and sugar melt and ears are heated through but still retain their texture. Add a sprinkling of cinnamon, if desired.

An unusually pleasing dessert Bartlett pears and add to con-tee!

Green peas look so pretty in nests of mashed potatoes. Top the peas with strips of pimiento. Small fry like this: oldsters, Peel, core and slice 3 ripe Bartlett pears and add to con-tee!

Iced Coffee
When we brew ourselves a pot of good strong hot coffee in the morning, we often make an extra amount for use in that late-morning or noontime glass of the iced beverage. If this appeals to you, pour the extra coffee into a glass jar, cover tightly and refrigerate until ready to use.

You can, of course, make iced coffee from instant coffee. Double the amount of the coffee powder you usually use for a cup of the hot beverage, diluting it with a little water. (Read the label of the instant coffee to find out whether the brand you are using needs hot or cold water.) Add ice cubes and cold water and stir well.

Club Sandwich Has Variations

Lost in the shuffle of sandwich history is the identity of the chef who put together the first club sandwich. For connoisseurs, this kindly creation is a favorite even though its origins are unknown. In fact, variations on the club sandwich theme appear year after year. For the record, however, the ingredients are more or less standard.

Checking from the bottom layer of toast, you first find sliced chicken and strips of crisp bacon. Then a middle slice of toast offers sliced tomato and lettuce.

Now it's served

The top layer of toast is usually fastened at the corners with wooden picks. The club may be served cut in two, three or four triangles.

Some advocate that this two-story delicacy be eaten with a fork. But most pitch in with "fingers-came-before-forks" gusto.

Several authors make a stab at tracing a parentage for the club sandwich.

One speculates that it was first enjoyed by a man who came home hungry from an evening at his club. He raided the refrigerator, the story goes, stacked up his sandwich-plus and dubbed it a "club."

Name Is Unknown

Another food authority thinks that a chef in some club earned a name for himself by inventing this sandwich. The fame, however, was either local or short-lived, because the author fails to identify him.

A club sandwich, as these versions show, has few limits. "Decker" sandwiches are a real challenge to the inventiveness of the sandwich chef, be he a "pro" or an eager amateur.

Firemen Issue Final Word
Regarding Distance Calls

KEYSER — Reiterating their declaration that no out-of-town calls will be answered after Monday, members of the Keyser Fire Company yesterday issued the following statement which appears to be their final say in the matter until further action by the Mineral County Court.
"The Keyser Fire Company has this to say, that the citizens of the county, as well as the City of Keyser may know some facts and figures.
"The Keyser Fire Company is a volunteer company and, of course, receives no compensation for its service. For 43 years they have served diligently day and night, winter and summer and they have served faithfully in protecting property and helping keep insurance rates down. To simply repay any citizen for whatever contribution he or she has made over a period of ten years to the Keyser Fire Company.
"An example: A citizen contributed $50.00 for the new truck in 1957. If that citizen had his money's worth yet?
"However can a volunteer fire company fight all the grass, brush, and forest fires and have the equipment tied up and at the same time be ready to protect homes and businesses? The trucks they have are not built or equipped to fight rural fires. What is needed is a tank truck.
"Fire fighting and protection is as important to a county as roads, schools and medical attention. So why shouldn't tax money be used in fire protection? The Keyser Fire Company has answered 131 county calls since 1952 to 1957.
"The Keyser Fire Company fought 23 county fires (outside the city limits) in 1956. The average cost was less than $10.00 a fire to the county. In 1957 to date they have fought 13 fires. Let's look at the County Court's figures. The annual county budget for fire protection is divided among nine fire companies. Out of the annual budget of $1,800, the Keyser Fire Company received $200. The budget for 1957 allows the Keyser Fire Company $300.
"Here is what the Keyser Fire Company has received from the County Court since the Legislature in 1951 allowed this account for fire protection: 1953, February $100; 1953, April $100; 1953, June $100; 1953, August $100; 1953, October $100; 1953, December $100; 1954, February $100; 1954, April $100; 1954, June $100; 1954, August $100; 1954, October $100; 1954, December $100; 1955, February $100; 1955, April $100; 1955, June $100; 1955, August $100; 1955, October $100; 1955, December $100; 1956, February $100; 1956, April $100; 1956, June $100; 1956, August $100; 1956, October $100; 1956, December $100; 1957, February $100; 1957, April $100; 1957, June $100; 1957, August $100; 1957, October $100; 1957, December $100.
"Prior to 1951 the Keyser Fire Company protected the county for many years before the State Legislature allowed the County Court to provide funds for fire protection.
"Many other counties have provided tank trucks for their protection as well as funds for the maintenance. Lewis County pays $2,700 annually towards one truck's salary (the figure Mineral County has set in its budget for all fire protection for 1957). Lewis County in addition provided a tank truck fully equipped at a cost of between $18,000 and $20,000. Morgan County, a small county, gave a tank truck with a 500 gallon per minute pump to the Paw Paw Fire Company, as well as $2,200 to Berkeley Springs since 1952.
"Since the eight other fire companies in the county fight few or no rural fires and since the Keyser Fire Company fights practically all the rural fires in the county, they ask that the county purchase and provide them, the Keyser Fire Company, with a tank truck. The Keyser Fire Company realizes that the county cannot provide all nine companies in the county with a tank truck, but if the county wants to purchase a tank truck for any company let them assign it to any company they desire and hold that designated company responsible for protection in the county.
"The Keyser Fire Company lets the discussion rest here."

Westernport Filtration Plant Put In Operation

WESTERNPORT — The town's new filtration plant is now in operation. Chlorine in the water is being used from the building near Savage River Dam, but within a couple of days officials expect to add the chemicals needed at the plant which is in charge of Bernard Guy.
Before the regular council meeting last evening, Mayor Okey E. Michael and commissioners visited the plant.
Ground was broken for the plant on March 8, 1956. The structure was built by the George Construction Company of Cumberland, and machinery was installed by the Roberts Filter Manufacturing Company of Darnestown, Pa.
Glance and Glance, engineering firm of Harrisburg, Pa., drew up the plans and supervised the project and Harry M. Richards, a former town commissioner, was the job inspector.
Mayor Michael said Richards' job will be relinquished at the end of this week, but for any emergency work he be recalled and paid.
Lee Haines, an engineer of Glance and Glance, who made periodical inspections and re-

Baltimore Art Collector Takes His Life

BALTIMORE, Md. — A ruling of suicide has been issued in the death of J. Blankard Martenet, prominent Baltimore art collector and patron.

The 59-year-old retired construction company official was found dead in the bathtub of his apartment yesterday.

Dr. Russell S. Fisher, medical examiner, gave the suicide verdict. He said Martenet had bled to death from a severed left wrist and added that a large hunting knife was found in the tub.

Martenet was considered the outstanding individual patron of contemporary art in Baltimore. He began his collecting during a Caribbean cruise in 1938 when he purchased four Puerto Rican water colors.

He retired as superintendent of the George A. Fuller Construction Co. at the age of 40 and concentrated on the field of art.

'Tight Money' Seen Issue '58 Campaign

Butler Says GOP Prosperity Talk Is 'Only Bunk'

CLARKSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — High interest rates, otherwise known as "tight money," and the high cost of living, were described by Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler last night as the "number one domestic issue of the 1958 campaign."

Butler also described Republican talk of unprecedented prosperity as "political bunk" in an address prepared for a dinner meeting sponsored by the Harrison County Democratic Executive Committee and young Democrats.

"The average American citizen," Butler said, "is caught in the inflationary tight money, high price squeeze, while big corporations and banks are reaping the harvest of this administration's policies."

"There is unprecedented prosperity. But if you want to know who is prospering, look at the annual reports of big business since the Eisenhower administration took over."

The party chairman then cited figures in the current issue of Fortune magazine as showing that 500 of the largest industrial concerns in the country had their "best year ever" in 1956. He added that the magazine reported just one year ago that 1955 was the "biggest year for big business."

Butler said price increases by big business are "fattening their profits, but they are also feeding inflation, while the administration adamantly claims to be hitting the consumer. There is the number one domestic issue of the 1958 campaign."

Bone Named To Loan Post

BALTIMORE (AP) — J. Marshall Boone, who until yesterday was chairman of the State Athletic Commission, today was named administrator of loan laws, a $5,000-a-year job.

Boone was succeeded as athletic commission chairman by Charles Rosenbaum, 46-year-old business executive of Baltimore County.

Boone's term on the commission had expired.

Gov. McKeldin made both appointments.

As loan law administrator, Boone will be responsible for enforcing the Uniform Small Loan Law under which small loan firms are licensed.

The administrator's post has been vacant since August 1955 when Lester L. Barrett left it to become a circuit court judge in Baltimore County.

Boone, an active Republican for many years, is associated with a large stock brokerage firm. He had been athletic commission chairman since 1951.

Rosenbaum is expected to be sworn in later this week as head of the commission which controls boxing and wrestling in Maryland.

Early Blaze Guts Tire Center

EMMITSBURG, Md. (AP) — An early morning fire gutted the Emmitsburg Tire Center today and left this northern Frederick County community without water for about two hours.

Damage to the cinder block building was estimated at between $20,000 and $25,000, and included tire recapping machinery and tools.

No one was injured. Firemen from Thurmont were called to help the Vigilant Hose Co. of Emmitsburg put out the stubborn blaze.

The garage was owned by Mrs. Lee David Neighbors, whose husband was killed June 18 in an automobile accident.

The city's water main was recently extended to the south end of town where the garage is located. Pressure needed for the fire hoses left the rest of the town's residents without sufficient pressure to get water out of their taps.

Martinsburg Red Cross In Fund Trouble

Will Have To Halt Work In Event Money Is Not Raised

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — The Berkeley County Chapter of the American Red Cross will have to discontinue its work unless it can raise $8,400 by Oct. 1 and apparently it can expect no help from the national organization.

Chapter directors authorized a special intensive fund raising campaign last night after hearing a stark report from a special finance committee.

The committee said the financial dilemma is a result of failure for three successive years to raise the goal—for local and national needs; and the use of "deficit financing" to keep itself going. Funds which could be borrowed and used ahead of time are now exhausted.

"There can be no more deficit financing," the committee said and the chapter is without security to borrow.

"The result is to raise the money or suspend," the board was told.

The chapter's regular fund-raising period is March. In past years, the chapter has run out of funds before the end of the fiscal year and has dipped into the new funds before the July 1 start of the new fiscal year.

National headquarters of the Red Cross, in answer to the chapter's queries, told the board it would expect to share in any money raised in the emergency appeal on the same basis as though it has been raised in the regular roll call—43 per cent for national and 47 per cent for the local chapter.

The chapter had asked if national would forego its share in the special appeal. But the answer was "No," chapter spokesmen said.

Man Convicted Of Manslaughter In Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — Willie Wrice, 29, has been convicted of manslaughter in the street-corner shooting June 1 that cost the life of a 10-year-old bystander.

Judge E. Paul Mason withheld sentencing yesterday pending further consideration of the case. The manslaughter verdict would permit a maximum of 10 years' imprisonment.

Wrice fired the shot at a Washington woman with whom he had quarreled, but the bullet shot and killed Jacqueline Brown. In a statement to police, Wrice admitted shooting at the woman and said the shot accidentally hit the child instead.

West Virginia Bids Sought

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Road Commissioner Patrick G. Graney has estimated costs at $1,600,000 for two bridges and 33 road improvement projects to be bid on July 23.

The bridge projects will involve federal aid. The interchange bridge of Clarksburg's Second Street, part of the city's expressway, is one of the projects, with the other involving part of the relocation of U.S. 60 east of Charleston.

The other projects will total 118 miles, Graney said yesterday.

The projects include: Berkeley — Asphalt surfacing four miles of W. Va. 51 between Inwood and Charles Town.

Jefferson — Asphalt surfacing 1.6 miles of W. Va. 51 between Inwood and Charles Town.

Schools To Get State Aid Funds

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Even though school is out for the summer, 23 West Virginia counties have asked for—and will receive—state aid funds for schools this month totaling $1,030,000.

William Hamilton of the Board of School Finance, who announced the amounts allotted, explained that counties sometimes wish to continue school construction or other projects during the summer months. The allotments are in-state for each county each year.

The counties include: Berkeley $80,000, Hardy $40,000, Jefferson $25,000 and Mineral $20,000.

Phillips Firm Becomes Part Of Big Group

Expansion Planned In Food Processing For State Plants

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The 55-year-old Phillips Packing Co. has become Coastal Foods Co., Division of Consolidated Foods Corp. of Chicago following a formal transfer of stock here yesterday.

A prompt expansion of food processing facilities and of the sales force was predicted by James E. Glover, new executive vice president and general manager of Coastal.

Albanus Phillips Jr., president of Phillips which was founded in Cambridge, Md., in 1902, becomes chairman of the board of Coastal. Theodore Phillips was named president and Glover, Levi B. Phillips Jr. and W. Grason Winterbottom Jr. become vice presidents. Albert E. Lankford is controller and secretary.

Coastal will operate the 16 plants in Maryland and Delaware formerly operated by Phillips.

Phillips employees were notified there will be no change in employment.

Consolidated, founded in 1941 with purchase of the C. D. Kenney Co. of Baltimore, has grown to a nationwide food processor whose sales for the fiscal year ended June 30 are expected to hit 330 million dollars.

Youth Fatally Hurt As Auto Leaves Highway

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — One youth was fatally injured and the son of a State Police sergeant hurt last night when their car ran off the road and overturned several times.

Davin Townsend, 19, of Salisbury, died at Peninsula General Hospital at 3:30 a.m. today.

State Police said Martin T. Bohler Jr., son of Sgt. Martin T. Bohler, was hospitalized with neck injuries.

Police said young Bohler was driving when the car struck a soft shoulder and left Pemberton Drive about one and a half miles west of Salisbury about 11:43 p.m.

Trooper L. A. Anderson said the auto ran 200 feet through a field and a yard, overturning several times.

The name of Argentina is derived from the Latin "argenteum," meaning silver.
